Village pulls VFW's liquor license

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board has suspended the liquor license of the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4551 Hall on North Ave.

The hall is the site of many of Antioch's

Wilton: 'I would not have a problem suspending the post's liquor license until after we meet with them and come up with a better solution.'

social functions where liquor is served.

The vote of the board was unanimous after a gang fight at a wedding held at the post over the weekend resulted in a foray that was quelled only after police from Antioch, Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. stepped in.

Discussion at the last board meeting revealed that this was the fourth infraction of its kind and also that the VFW officials had never supplied the board with a list of upcoming events the board had asked for after the last such incident, a rock concert held at the hall only eight months ago.

Trustee Larry Hanson, who is on the public safety committee, told the board that he had been at the scene and the parking lot was littered with beer bottles. He added the attitude of the Post Commander Darrell Brewer towards the police was that the situation was their fault.

Suggestions that the post be made to either have private security police or pay off-duty Antioch police to keep things in hand when the hall is rented out for functions were made.

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller said, "Ten policemen wouldn't have helped Saturday night."

After being advised by Village Atty. Ken Clark that the liquor commissioner, Mayor Robert Wilton, and his deputy commissioner, Hanson, had authority to pull the post's liquor license, Wilton told the board, "I would not have a problem with suspending the post's liquor license until we can meet with them and come up with a solution to the problem."

Keeping cool burns Olga's

Over $1,000 in damages to Olga's Odds and Ends on Lake St. in Antioch's shopping center occurred when a faulty air conditioner shorted out, igniting the wooden frame surrounding it.

Shop owner Olga Dempski was tending to business by herself when the fire started.

A passerby kept the flames under control until the fire department arrived, allowing Dempski to escape the store unharmed.

Cops stop Latino gang fight at Veterans Hall

Police from Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. aided the Antioch police in quelling a gang fight that ensued during a wedding held at the VFW Hall on North Ave. Saturday evening.

According to Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher, the fight started about 11:40 p.m. because of an altercation between two gangs, the Disciples and the Latin Kings from Mundelein and Round Lake.

Fisher said it was a bad situation "that almost got out of control."

A third group, the Folks, part of the Disciples, was also involved.

Two juveniles and three male adults were arrested.

Charged with battery and unlawful use of a weapon was Adam Arteaga, 17, Mundelein. Rosario Gomes, 20, Mundelein was charged with assault and Miguel Tellez, 18, Forest Lake, was charged with battery.

Two juveniles were taken into custody with one set to be turned over to juvenile court on battery charges.

One of the participants involved was hit with a baseball bat but he refused medical aid.

'Meating' the challenge

Sandy Jurquaitis, a food service aide at the Lake County Area Vocational Center, explains a meat cutting procedure to Efrain Bonilla, of Mundelein, as Director of LCAVC Dick Glogovsky looks on. Bonilla is training for a food service career at the LCAVC in Grayslake. The LCAVC prepares high school students for the business, industry, health or agriculture fields. This year, 1,000 students are enrolled in 21 vocational programs at the center. Between 400 to 600 students graduate annually from the center.

Drug fight aided by many groups

Antioch's Drug Task Force, working in cooperation with the Villages of Lindenhurst and Lake Villa, is pushing ahead.

Head of the task force, Claudette Skvarce told the Antioch Village Board that its approval of a new policy regarding giving drug tests to all new village employees "shows the young adults of the area that this village really wants to solve the drug problem."

The task force is meeting the third Wednesday of the month at the village hall.

Many interested residents attended a display done by Antioch Police Officer Ron Kay, showing various drug paraphernalia and drugs confiscated by law enforcement agencies.

Another like demonstration and talk was given to the Antioch Exchange Club by Wayne Hunter from the Metropolitan Drug Enforcement Agency.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce is doing its part for the Drug Awareness Program with a program expected to take place on Friday, May 4, at Hogan's Restaurant.

The Chamber's breakfast program is set to take aim at business people, teaching them how to handle drug and alcohol abuse in the work place.

Representatives of Antioch grade and high schools have received $500 grants made up of monies confiscated from drug dealers, presented by Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman.

Missing funds

CHAIN OF LAKES—A white collar crime task force is currently investigating the misappropriation of approximately $20,000 in funds from the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Agency. According to Chief Deputy State's Atty. Michael Waller, investigators are reviewing bank records and other documents relating to the agency's budget. Former director of the agency, Al Moltrum, has been interviewed by investigators regarding the missing funds. He resigned in January to start his own business. The issue stemmed from an irregularity caught by the agency's auditor when closing out the 1988-89 budget.

Hit Charter's plans

WAUKEGAN—Hospital officials from throughout Lake County appeared at a hearing of the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, blasting the proposed Charter Medical Corp. facility Gurnee as being duplicative of services and increased health care costs. Nick Stamatakis, vice president of marketing and planning for St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan, said the only service which Charter would provide that does not exist is for child medical care.

Add 19 golf holes

MUNDELEIN—Countryside Golf Course will double in size in the coming year with construction of an additional 19 holes starting this month. Coupled with rebuilding of the front nine in 1991, the course will be able to handle twice last season's 53,000 rounds by 1992. With the reconstruction play will begin and end at the club house.

Consider other sites

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich Mayor James Kay is hopeful the controversial land battle between Bell's Apple Orchard and the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Dist. will be resolved soon. He made the statement after what he calls a productive meeting last Saturday with two fire district officials and mayors from surrounding towns, including Kildeer and Hawthorn Woods and North Barrington and Deer Park. Kay, who opposes the fire district's plan to condemn five acres of orchard to build a fire station, said fire district members should seek input from surrounding towns. Two fire district officials — Eric Neilsen and Ed Coutre — assured him they would recommend their board consider building a fire station on another site, Kay said. The fire district meets at 7:30 p.m. May 15 at Hawthorn Woods Village Hall. Meanwhile, orchard owner John Bell III, is seeking legislation to allow citizens to petition to the county board to remove a fire district official if he does not serve the public's interests. He also wants to see a bill passed that would make fire district trustees elected, instead of appointed positions.

Gala post prom

LIBERTYVILLE—A drug-free post-prom gala is being planned for Libertyville High School youths on Friday, May 17. It will be held at Condell Memorial Hospital's Centre Club in cooperation with community churches. It follows the prom at the Woodfield Hilton Hotel and continues until 5 a.m.

VFW License

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board has suspended the liquor license of the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4551 Hall on North Ave. The hall is the site of many of Antioch's social functions where liquor is served. The vote of the board was unanimous after a gang fight at a wedding held at the post over the weekend resulted in a foray that was quelled only after police from Antioch, Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. stepped in. After being advised by Village Atty. Ken Clark that since this was the fourth incident of its kind at the VFW Hall, the liquor commissioner, Mayor Robert Wilton, and his deputy commissioner, Larry Hanson, had authority to pull the post's liquor license, Wilton told the board, "I would not have a problem with suspending the post's liquor license until we can meet with them and come up with a solution to the problem." The notice of suspension was served on the VFW Post on Tuesday.

Talks yard waste

VERNON HILLS—Vernon Hills Village Board members are expected to finalize plans for landscape waste removal at their May 8 meeting. During a committee-of-the-whole meeting Tuesday, village board members endorsed a plan calling for once a week refuse removal as well as once a week yard waste removal for eight months. Trustees Alvin Israel and James Heler voted against the plan, while Trustees Roger Bryne, Donald Hook and Mayor Barbara Williams supported the plan. Trustees Pam Newton and Richard Cashman were absent.

Delay decision

GRAYSLAKE—Die-hard supporters of Avon School Principal Edna Smyth waited at Grayslake Junior High School until almost midnight Tuesday, only to hear that the reclassification proceedings transferring Smyth from principal to teacher were still unresolved. The board voted 7-0 to continue the matter, but set no date for further action. A board spokesperson said Tuesday the next step is up to Smyth and her attorney, Rick Scott. Legally, Smyth has five days to request a public hearing.

Burglary ring

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—An arrest made by the Round Lake Heights Police Dept., under the leadership of Chief John Robinson, may have uncovered a burglary ring responsible for numerous other residential and car burglaries throughout Lake County. Scott A. Moore, 19, of Round Lake Beach, and Jason Forrest, 18, of Hugheside are now being held by police for parole violation, and burglary charges are pending against both. They have implicated themselves and at least three other area residents in approximately 130 home and car burglaries throughout Lake County.

Fire Station bids

NORTH CHICAGO—Bids were accepted from 23 subcontractors on the new North Chicago Fire Station. Bids totaled $635,395 and were submitted by Pence-Schwartz and Associates, the city's contracting agent for the project. There was some discussion among city council members about the need for performance bonds from the subcontractors or from Pence-Schwartz, but since North Chicago is acting as its own contractor, it was deemed unnecessary.

The Victory Memorial
Chemical Dependency Program

708-360-HELP

Three months ago, the quiet calm of Joan and Allen Mitchell's life was shattered when they discovered that their daughter, Stephanie, had a drug problem.

The signs had been there for months: falling grades, absenteeism, moodiness, lack of respect, lying and defensiveness. Yet, the signs went unheeded. Joan and Allen thought it was just adolescence, typical teenage problems. Unfortunately, they were wrong. It was something far more serious.

Stephanie had a drug problem. The first person to recognize it was one of Stephanie's teachers, who called the Mitchells and made them aware of her concern. Fortunately, they acted quickly and sought professional help.

They turned to the specialists at the Adolescent Chemical Dependency Program at Victory Memorial Hospital. Here, they found a comprehensive program that not only helped Stephanie with her problem, but helped them understand the role that they would play in maintaining Stephanie's continued health.

Today, Stephanie is her old self, back at school and doing well. The family is stronger, closer and able to weather almost anything.

Some stories do have happy endings, and many of them begin at Victory Memorial Hospital.

For complete information on our Chemical Dependency Program, or to confidentially discuss a problem confronting your family, call 708-360-HELP, anytime day or night.

Plans for Nov. 6 election

Environment group targets Shore Line

Curb Over-Development (COD), an environmental protection political action committee, is expanding its efforts to Shore Line communities in the Nov. 6 general election.

Chairman Frank Sullivan, a resident of rural Antioch, has notified members that COD plans to get involved in the Lake County Board elections in Districts 1, 2 and 3, districts bordering Lake Michigan, regardless of political affiliation.

"The environment has no political party," Sullivan emphasized.

Sullivan said COD was one of the major factors in the successful nomination for County Board seats of Carol Calabrese (Dist. 5) of Libertyville and Larry Leafblad (Dist. 4) of Grayslake. Calabrese and Leafblad both are Republicans.

COD provided more than 33,000 pieces of campaign literature in door-to-door canvassing and mailings in District 4, 5 and 6.

To provide manpower for the campaign, COD is organizing Volunteer Stewards for the Environment, a no-dues organization being headed by Penny Boukidis of Warren Twp., who has accepted the job of building a network of a least 400 volunteers.

Boukidis, who unsuccessfully sought to unseat Warren Supervisor Robert Depke in 1989, is looking for persons now and election day.

Boukidis, who resides at 33430 N. Hunt Club Rd., Libertyville, can be contacted at (708)223-9228.

Earl Johnson of Grayslake is spearheading PAC contributions. COD has a contribution scale from $500 for a lifetime membership to a non-voting membership of $10. Business memberships are $250 and family memberships are $50. Johnson can be contacted at P.O. Box 4, Libertyville, 60048.

Sullivan said COD works to keep abreast of developments, monitor voting records of public officials influence elected officials and elect to office candidates sharing the organization's environmental concerns.

COD can be an effective counter agent to development and real estate political spending that was targeted in central and west Lake County during the March primary for County Board seats when four out of six COD candidates with developer support won nominations, COD officers pointed out.

Johnson said COD currently is notifying members to support passage of the Illinois Wetland Protection Act of 1990.

The bill is sponsored in the Illinois Senate by Sen. Jack Schaeffer (R-Crystal Lake) and in the House by State Rep. William Peterson (R-Buffalo Grove).

Wiser is replacing Pastor Christopher Barnes, who served as Associate Pastor of Youth Ministries for the past nine years.

Camp pays dividends for Warren vaulter

When most people think of going off to camp in the summer, unpleasant childhood memories may be prominent.

But not for Warren Twp. High School student Erik Heiz.

Heiz, a senior, attended two summers of camps but there was little if no signing around the campfire. For Heiz attended the camps at Illinois State University and one in California to improve on his pole vaulting.

The work paid off Saturday as Heiz won first place honors at the North Chicago Invitational with a clear of 13 feet. His best is 13-6. Heiz duplicated his effort during a double dual meet against Stevenson Monday.

"He has worked reasonably hard on it and has some natural talent," Warren Coach Ron Taulu said.

This has been a frustrating spring for the Warren boys track team, as evidenced by a 128-18 loss to Stevenson Monday.

The Blue Devils' other bright spot this year has been junior Shannon Moore. Moore had a 24.8 in the 400 meter dash against the Patriots, good enough for second place.

Both Warren track teams will be at meets this weekend as the girls are at the North Suburban Conference meet May 6 at Stevenson while the boys are at the Lake County Meet hosted by Lake Zurich.

The girls are coming off a close 66-65 loss to the Patriots. Warren, paced by relays, led 21-11 early but saw the Pats pass them with strong showings in the shot put and discus. Stevenson scored 18 points in those two events. Robyn Schenk won both events for the Pats.

The meet boiled down to a rerun of the 300 meter dash. Stevenson was ahead 62-55 at the time, so only a disqualification could give Warren a tie. Warren's Shelly Bendery won the meet, but the visitors fell a point shy.

"We are going to try and get as many medals as we can," girls track coach Julie Cadieux said of the conference meet.

One possibility for points for Warren could be freshman Bonnie Merritt. The distance runner has improved 30 seconds off her times.

Born in Deerfield, he was a life member

Antioch AARP Chapt. parties after 25 years

Over 200 members and guests gathered at Maravela's Restaurant, Ingleside, to observe the 25th Anniversary of Antioch Area Chapter 387 AARP. Among the dignitaries present were: Robert Wilton, mayor of Antioch, Tim Osmond, trustee, representing William Churchill and Jim Fields, who were unable to be present, Eugene Molenaar, Area V representative, AARP; and Father Vince J. Eckholm, St. Ignatius Church of Antioch, who gave the invocation. They were introduced by Arthur Aerne, president of Antioch Area Chapter 387.

The beautiful silver center pieces on each table and the silver rose boutonnieres given to each person were the creations of Bernice Cardis and her committee and gave the dining room an elegant setting for this special event.

The Bristol Senior Band from Bristol, played music of long ago and provided ballroom dancing of the "Big Band" era to the delight of all the dancing couples. Dorothy Rochford and Scotty McDowell responded to popular demand and sang a beautiful duet.

Ruth Rynder was arrangements chairperson for the celebration, assisted by Robert Ullrich and Marcella Jesse. Blanche Babik was in charge of tickets, assisted by Frances Tomasik and Pearl Roach. Betty Hentschel and Clara Haling served as hostesses.

Next meeting will be on May 8, at the Antioch Senior Center. Nominations for the new officers will be presented by Marcella Jesse, chairperson of the nominating committee. Nominations may also be made from the floor. All members are requested to be present.

ACHS ice cream social is part of 75th birthday

As part of Antioch High School's 75th Anniversary Celebration, there will be an old fashioned ice cream social on Sunday, May 20, in the Commons at the high school, from 1 to 4 p.m.

At this event a time capsule will be buried.

The school's 75th birthday will also be part of the graduation exercises scheduled for 2 p.m., on Sunday, June 3, at the North Gym.

Teachers will be wearing robes along with the graduates to commemorate ACHS's 75 years of upholding fine education standards.

The freshman, sophomore and junior classes will be taking final exams on Tuesday, June 5 and Wednesday, June 6.

Rotarians make good on auction 'night hunt'

Last weekend, two groups of Antiochans were entertained by Bill Brook and Bob Diemer at Deer Lake.

The event was a practice "night hunt" which had been purchased at the last Rotary Auction.

The first group, made up of those of the female persuasion, included Fran Ano, Patti Antonelli, Teri Johnson, Judy Korecek, Ann Livermore, Jane Miles and Sandi Siegmeier.

Group two was an all male one made up of Bill, Mike and Wayne Blake, Frank Colette, Jr., Tom Hart, Bert Metz, Chuck Miller, Bob Rohrs, and Claude and Pat Smith.

Debbie Diemer planned the hearty meal of huge steaks and lots of potatoes with all the fixin's.

Chef Dan Dugenske prepared the dinner and served it outdoors by the fire.

Harry O'Lengvenis was a terrific bartender (which affected a few of the hunters the next day).

The night included moonshine, hunting dogs and a card game, lots of fun for all the participants.

Millburn authors to attend conference

Students from Millburn C. C. School Dist. 24 will participate in the 16th Statewide Young Authors Conference on May 19 at Illinois State University in Normal, Principal Gary L. Cybul announced.

Attending the conference will be seventh grade students, Scott Wyatt and Justin Boller. A district-level panel of parents and teachers selected these young authors after reviewing manuscripts submitted in a local program recognizing student writing. Students from across the State in kindergarten through eighth grade will attend the one day meeting. Both public and nonpublic schools are represented. The conference is sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Education and the Language Experience-Whole Language Special Interest Council of the Illinois Reading Council.

The purpose of the event is to recognize the writing skills of students and to support classroom teachers in their efforts to improve the reading and writing abilities of their students. Students attending the conference will have an opportunity to share their manuscripts, engage in writing activities, and meet with noted children's authors. Also, the students' parents will attend a session on encouraging children's activity.

Antioch 9 comes close to splitting with Vikings

Antioch's baseball team bounced back from two lopsided losses against Warren to challenge Niles North in North Suburban Conference play Saturday.

The Sequoits lost both ends of the twin bill, 11-6 and 15-9. But Antioch was six outs away from gaining its third win of the year in the second game.

The Sequoits were ahead 9-5 in the sixth inning.

"The bottom fell out of our pitching staff," Antioch Coach Greg Decker said.

The Vikings came up with 10 runs in the final two innings to win the game.

"It was within our grasp," a frustrated Decker sighed.

Antioch, 2-19 overall and 1-7 in the NSC, did receive a strong hitting day from Jon DeBernardis, who was five-for-seven in the two games.

Dan Lamb contributed the same prowess at the plate and had four RBIs. Dan Pappadakis was three-for-four in the second game.

Antioch got some clutch hitting from Steve Mandercheid, who delivered a two-out triple for the 9-5 margin.

But three Antioch pitchers could not hold the lead.

Earlier, Warren had no trouble with the Sequoits, handing them 15-1 and 7-0 losses. Jeff Ray did have a home run in the 15-1 loss and Matt Pelland had two hits.

Decker and Co. were optimistic, though, heading into this week. Antioch faced non-conference foe McHenry before battling Mundelein.

But then the Sequoits have Libertyville and Lake Forest looming on the horizon.

Emmons fetes Culture Day focusing on the USSR

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Emmons School has a tradition of celebrating a "Culture Day" every other year.

This tradition is school wide encompassing students from grades kindergarten through eighth grade. The main purpose of "Culture Day" is to expose the students to the cultures and customs of people in other countries so they can appreciate the many different customs.

The focus of this year's culture day was on the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic (USSR). Culture Day also demonstrates team work as students, parents, and teachers all work together to make this project so worthwhile.

Over a period of two weeks, the students learned all about the animals, holidays, families, history, geography, climate, politics and literature of the USSR.

They worked on projects such as maps, time lines, dress/costumes, icons and religion of the Soviet Union. They also learned the Russian alphabet and some Russian phrases. A speaker made available from the CLC Speaker Bureau gave students a talk on the USSR and also a slide presentation.

Anniversary

25th Anniversary

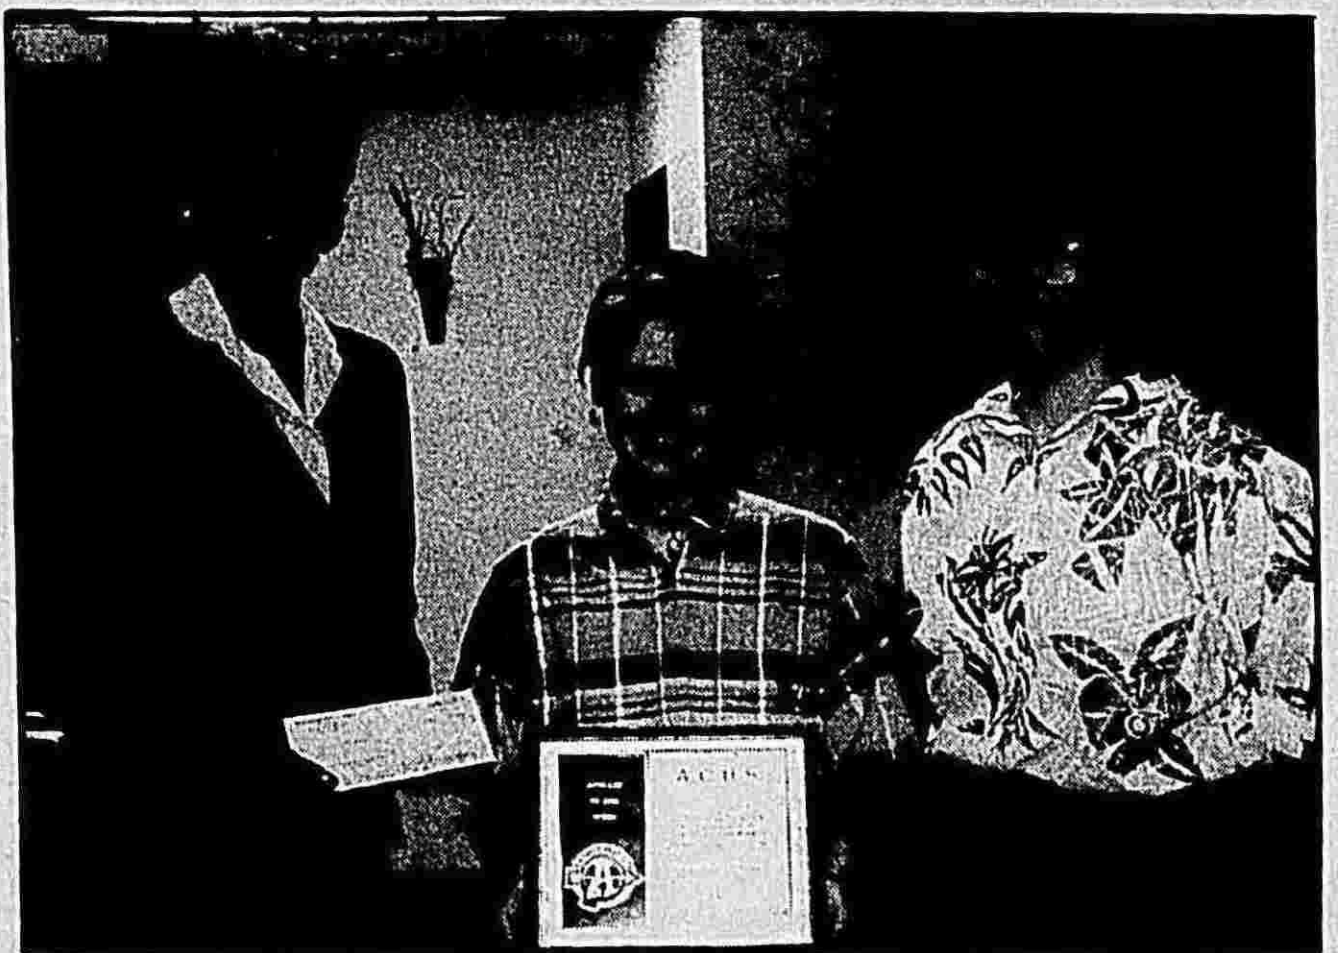

Bernard and Marie Schaetten celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at Don's Village Inn, Twin Lakes, Wis. on April 29. Their children were there to help celebrate this special occasion. The Schaetten's traveled by air to Las Vegas, Nev. to complete this celebration on May 1, their wedding date in 1965, which took place in the little white chapel on the strip in Las Vegas. They also visited the Star Dust Hotel as they did 25 years ago.

The groom was born and raised on a dairy farm near Bassett, Wis. now owned by the LaSalette Missionaries and in 1937 he delivered ice to Don's Village Inn, then called the Spa.

The bride was the wife of the late Adolph Fiegel of Silver Lake.

The Schaetten's formerly of Trevor, Wis. now reside in Antioch.

AUGS concert, benefit May 22

The Antioch Upper Grade School choir's fundraiser was successful. The students were able to sell over $18,000 worth of candy which will yield a profit of over $7,000.

This money has been raised to provide funds for a new piano and new sound equipment.

A special thanks to Mrs. Modra and Mrs. Todd who helped with the record keeping.

The combined Spring Concert and Art Show on May 22 will start at 7:30 p.m., and will feature some lighter music. Songs to be included in this concert are: "R.O.C.K. in the U.S.A.", "Wind Beneath My Wings".

"One Moment in Time", C.C. Rider, "Blue Suede Shoes", and a salute to 60's tunes called "Boyzfriends and Bobbysocks."

Mr Shule would appreciate having some parent volunteers to assist in setting up the art exhibit the day of the show.

Antioch over Devils, sweeps over Vikings

A clutch seventh inning defensive play and a show of hitting power left the Antioch softball squad fighting for first place with Mundelein in the North Suburban Conference.

The Sequoits host Mundelein May 3 before taking on Libertyville in a doubleheader May 5.

Antioch, 12-1 overall and 7-1 in the NSC, escaped with a 3-2 win as two Warren runners were gunned down at the plate.

Antioch gained a 3-1 lead in its half of the seventh inning after one out.

Kelly Pramshafer singled, Sue Ozga reached on an error and a pinch hitter grounded out, but Pramshafer scored. Ozga later scored on a single by leadoff hitter Jenny Hagen.

In Warren's seventh, Jenny Pulaski walked, and Susan Reed singled. Rebecca Yukina then singled to score Pulaski.

After a strikeout, Serdar grounded back to the pitcher. Two Warren runners were then gunned down at the plate to end the close contest.

"We got the hits at the key situations," Antioch Coach Judy Smithhisler said.

Smithhisler said the team works hard on specific defensive plays in practice. "We've especially worked hard on the delayed steal after Zion-Benton scored three or four runs on it against us," she said.

Warren was without All-NSC Catcher Heather Olejak, who was nursing a leg injury.

Warren, which faces Niles North in an away doubleheader May 6, took a 1-0 lead in the first but a double play took the home team out of the inning.

Corsi delivered an RBI single scoring Yukina, who had walked.

Antioch tied the game in the sixth inning as Hagen scored on a wild pitch.

Antioch continued its winning ways against Niles North Saturday with a 16-8, 19-10 sweep of the Vikings.

Wertz picked up the win in relief in the first game, pitching the final two and two-thirds innings.

Antioch was led by two five run innings, in the first and sixth.

Ginger Skarvce picked up the win in game two as she struckout three and walked five.

Hagen had three hits, Harris two hits and five RBIs. The Sequoits saved their best for last, as they trailed 10-9 going into the seventh inning.

Pramshafer had a triple and Harris a double for Antioch.

Blecke, Andrews retire next year

Antioch High School is luckier than was reported in last week's newspaper.

ACHS Principal Arthur Blecke and Roger Andrews, teacher and long-time basketball coach, will be lending their revered presences to the halls of the schools for one more school year and will not be retiring next month as reported in last week's issue of this newspaper.

Blecke and Andrews will be turning in their education badges at the end of the 190-91 school year.

The newspaper apologizes for the misunderstanding and the resulting mistake.

Blecke will be retiring after spending 40 years in education, 25 of those at ACHS.

Andrews has spent 37 years in education, 31 of which has been spent as a coach and teacher at ACHS.

Accreditation

Arthur Blecke, principal of Antioch Community High School, has announced that the school's North Central Assn. accreditation has been extended through the 1989-90 school year following the review and approval of its Annual Report at the association's annual meeting. Accreditation is for one year at a time and must be renewed annually.

Mayor to talk to commission

Members of the Antioch Village Board voiced their concern that none of the police officers have signed up to be considered for a promotion to corporal.

Trustee Ed Kosziorowski, who is on the safety committee, said that the police and fire commission's policy to give drug and psychological testing, besides a credit check to those applying for a promotion might be the reason why.

The board also approved the hiring of Peggy VanPatten to work temporarily as a dispatcher until a full-time one can be hired.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to router your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Postal carriers fight dog bites

Spring is in the air and, unfortunately, that usually heralds a rise in dog bites.

As the weather turns warmer, more pet owners allow their dogs outside the house and the larger population of dogs roaming free results in more dog bites, according to Grayslake Postmaster Vincent M. Rooney.

"We are asking neighbors to help protect letter carriers, utility workers and other citizens from the dangers of dog bites. Nationally, more than 4,000 letter carriers were bitten by dogs last year. I've gone too many times to the hospital with a carrier who has been bitten by a dog not to take this problem seriously," Rooney said.

Rooney has received excellent cooperation from customers in the past, but there are still too many dog bites.

"Our customers have responded very positively to our plea to keep their pets restrained in the last few years. And we have seen a decline in bites nationally. Nevertheless, virtually all dog bites are unnecessary.

Rooney said that all dogs are territorial by nature, and even the most gentle pet will bite if it feels its domain is threatened by the presence of a carrier or other person.

"With a little care, a pet owner can not only protect carriers, but his/her pet and pocketbook, too," Rooney said.

Rooney stressed that the Postal Service is very serious about protecting its employees from dog bite hazards. When a pet owner fails to restrain a dog that threatens a carrier, Rooney will stop home delivery to the residence, or in some cases, to the entire neighborhood. The Postal Service will also seek to recover worker's compensation damages and provided counseling to carriers who have been bitten and who wish to seek private legal action against the dog owners.

Rooney said these policies underscore the Postal Services Commitment to protect its employees, and added that pet owners can easily meet their responsibilities to control their pets.

"We suggest that pets be kept away from the mailbox and areas the letter carrier uses for access to the property. "If the pet cannot be kept in a secure fence, the owner should restrain it with a secure leash or tether or at least keep the pet inside the house during the usual hours carriers are making their rounds," Rooney said.

"We try to do our part by stressing awareness of dog bite dangers to our carriers. But dog bites are everyone's problem and we rely heavily on the support and cooperation of the community to help us end these painful and costly injuries," Rooney said.

FINANCING DECISION

QUESTION: I plan to buy a home in the near future. When should I decide on whether to select a fixed or variable mortgage?

ANSWER: Actually, this should be a last-minute decision. The financing market changes often enough so that the best financing mode one month may not be the best the next month.

If you expect to live in the house for a long time and you feel that interest rates will increase, you may lean toward a fixed rate. An equally sound case can be made for the lower initial interest offered on variable rate mortgages. If you don't expect to live in the home for a very long time, the variable rate mortgage would be the answer.

Raises out of line

Even with the protective cushion of the nonpartisan Compensation Review Board, Illinois politicians may not have the stomach to endorse a recommended pay raise of 14.5 percent in a crucial election year.

Created in 1984 to take the onus off pay raises, the review panel's recommendation for the next governor, cabinet, legislators and judges automatically takes effect July 1 unless the General Assembly votes to reject the increases within 30 legislative days. Judging from the cries of protest on all sides, the first raises since 1987 might bite the dust.

Both candidates for governor have backed away from the pay increase and legislative leaders on both sides of the aisle agree that the recommendation is too much. And well they should. Pay raises in recent years for top executives in business and industry have been running between five and seven percent.

The recommendation is out of line. The review panel ought to go back to the drawing board. We wonder what the panel thinks about rising real estate taxes these days?

Reform turns sour

From the pangs of chaos, hints of order and good sense sometimes emerge. That about sums up the present situation of the wildly tossing ship of state of the Village of Round Lake Park where credence is being given to a proposal to consider merger of the chief-less police department with neighboring Round Lake.

Trustees Paul Willen and Don Newby of Round Lake Park feel residents of both villages might be better served with a combined larger department. Citizens of the Village of Round Lake might take a differing viewpoint, seeing as how the current Park administration is pretty hard on its appointed officials. But the fact remains that the suggestion has rekindled an oft-voiced belief in the area of four incorporated villages with separate village boards and separate police departments: that the whole is more efficient than the parts.

Even with the worthwhile police consolidation proposal, things are anything but serene in Round Lake Park where in one year's time, the Neighborhood Voice Party, voted into power to bring about reform, is hunting for its third police chief, changed village attorneys, almost reorganized the village council due to resignations and has Mayor Cole Akins in constant hot water, a good bit of the time due to his own making.

Now Trustee Charlene Beyer, the voice of the Voice, has come up with the most cockeyed idea yet. Beyer wants to go behind closed doors, perhaps in the comfort of a local restaurant, to iron out problems away from curious voters and the prying eyes of the press. Someone ought to inform Trustee Beyer about the Illinois Open Meetings Act.

What Round Lake Park doesn't need now are charges of secret meetings. Interestingly, the loyal opposition, deposed by the electorate in 1989, is standing by to pick up the pieces. Its name? The Reliable Leadership Party.

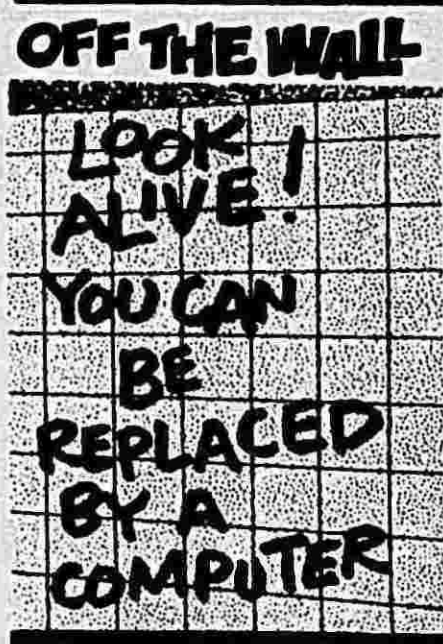

Curbing bossism

Avon Township Republican precinct committee persons are taking the lead in restoring a true open primary for their party by unanimously supporting a bylaw change prohibiting Central Committee endorsements in the primary.

The proposed bylaw makes a lot of sense in encouraging participation in the political process and would go a long way toward removing the tinge of bossism that has tainted the past several GOP primaries under the overly zealous leadership of former County GOP Chairman Robert Neal.

After all, a political party isn't much of a party when the party is closed. The Avon proposal would not prohibit township organizations from making primary endorsements. The amendment ought to be adopted that so all prospective candidates and their supporters feel that they are on an equal footing in the primary.

Local bills wend way through thicket

by REP. JOHN S. MATIJEVICH

The Illinois Legislature is working at its usual hectic pace at this time of the year. It's all committee action, and legislators scurry from committee to committee to advance their own bills, and to serve on their assigned committees.

During the even-number years when we try to concentrate on budgetary matters, much of the other volume of bills will get bogged down and may never be called for a final floor vote. Some call it "spinning our wheels," yet legislators are obligated to carry their legislation as far as they can, usually from local constituency or special interests pressures. And, of course, legislators know that it's an election year, so it doesn't hurt to get publicity on bills they're pursuing, even if the legislation doesn't survive the process.

The Lake County Board asked area legislators to introduce a series of bills. A few that I've handled passed the committee test. House Bill 3207 was aimed at providing a fee structure for civil and criminal cases to help finance the local courts. Dwight Magalis, county administrator, said that it is more prudent to have those who use the judicial system help pay for increased costs of courts administration, rather than putting that burden on the property taxpayer. That bill is at amendment state.

The county also asked me to introduce H.B. 3202 which they said was needed so that the controversial Round Lake Sanitary District could dissolve itself. That bill passed committee by a 21-0 vote. It seems to me that when a sanitary district is not serving its intended purpose, it should be dissolved so that it does not continue to drain taxpayers.

The Counties and Townships Committee, by a 12-0 vote, passed favorably on H.B. 3872 which I introduced in behalf of the Lake County Stormwater Management Planning Committee. The bill sets out procedures for stormwater management based on the premise that those who contribute to stormwater problems should bear the costs

Good news, bad news on May 5

by BILL SCHROEDER

If you like your good news and bad news coming at you in one confusing glob, then Saturday, May 5, is for you. That's the day Lake County real estate tax bills are sure to hit your doorstep, if not before. Call your personal banker and get ready for a cold shower.

Saturday, May 5, also will be "Tax Freedom Day" this year, the day you will have earned enough to satisfy all the tax collectors. Feel like celebrating?

Tax Freedom Day is an estimate of how long it takes an average person to pay state, federal and local taxes if all your income went for taxes. Hurrah! Monday morning you can go to work for yourself.

May 5 is the latest day ever, according to the Tax Foundation, a nonpartisan research organization. Before this year, the latest date was May 4, 1981, before a big tax reduction went to effect.

In case you've been wondering what ever happened to the reduction, the Foundation said income tax deductions have been watered down, and the rest has been eaten away by more Social Security taxes, and more state and local taxes.

Thought you'd like to know!

SO LONG—A lot of folks stopped by at the Cooperative Extension office on Rte. 45 Monday afternoon to say goodbye to Irene Green, who is headed for retirement in the Carolinas. Irene came about as close as anyone to knowing all the answers, at least about homemaking and managing a household. But that was her job, first as home adviser and then as director of the service. She resided in Libertyville during all her years serving Lake County.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—With the married offspring starting to chalk up more marital years, friends of this column are asking if there is another generation in the offing. My reply always is the same, "These days the only young ones around the house are kittens and puppies."

Letters To The Editor

Sixth grade hostages

Editor:

One hundred eighty sixth grade Gurnee children will be shipped two hours a day to Zion next year.

Gurnee residents did not select their community to have their children bussed to Milwaukee, Chicago or Zion.

This is not a new tax problem, but a direct result of zoning variances allowing high density housing not paying their proportionate share of property taxes.

This fiasco is not a fault of the taxpayers or the children, but rather those who allowed, encouraged and promoted variances in the existing adequate zoning regulations.

Not only will the disrupted children and their families be affected, but all Gurnee property owners as well. Perspective new property owners are not receptive to this situation.

We express our sympathy to the sixth grade children and their families, and our shame to those who allowed and profited from their variances.

Crucial meeting

Editor:

We want to urge people to attend the public hearing concerning the Forest Preserve District's designation of 475 acres of the Cuneo Estate for a forest preserve. The meeting will be held at the Libertyville High School's Studio Theater at 7:30, May 9.

It is crucial that there be a good turnout to convince our elected officials that the public is watching to see whether or not we can depend on them to act responsibly concerning the future quality of life for our three villages.

Preservation of the environment will be the issue of this decade. Once property is developed, the damage can never be undone. Now we have the chance to create a lasting legacy for generations of Lake County residents. Call your County Board representatives and Vernon Hills Board of Trustees members to express your concerns.

Earth Day serves purpose

Editor:

We try to be optimistic about the future, although it seems foolish at times. Take Earth Day, for example. Here was an opportunity for the common man (that's us) to show our government, our employers, and fellow-man that we truly do care what happens to this planet. Rather than complaining about the terrible things that go on and how it's 'out of our hands' we could have sent a very important message simply by participating in one of the demonstrations in the area. My family marched in Wauconda, although we live in Island Lake.

The turnout in Wauconda was disappointing. We'd like to have seen more adults walking with their kids instead of taking pictures from the (Continued on next page)

Warren Twp. has been Depked again, say those who live there.

It's all because Shawn Depke, the township Republican Party chairman and son of the Warren Twp. supervisor, played a game of musical chairs.

On March 20 he was re-elected committeeman in Grandwood Park precinct 243.

Less than one month later—April 18—he filed a change of address with the county clerk's office. On April 20 he was appointed committeeman in Warren 252. Harold Waneke, who was elected to serve that precinct, suddenly resigned.

As for the good people of Grandwood Park, they are not without a GOP committeeman. Dave Brown was appointed to succeed Depke.

If you're looking forward to Sheriff Clinton Grinnell's summer picnic (like last year), don't. It has been cancelled for 1990.

Instead, there will be a cocktail party. The place is the posh Country Squire in Grayslake. The date is Friday, July 20. Hor d'oeuvres will be served with a cash bar.

"Next year we'll probably go back to having a picnic," Grinnell said about last year's well attended event on the Greek Festival grounds off O'Plaine Rd. in Gurnee. "A picnic is an awful lot of work, which my volunteers don't need in an election year.

"Cocktail parties aren't as much work and they raise more money," the sheriff confided.

"But a picnic is more fun and you meet more people," he added.

Lt. Gov. George Ryan stopped by the other day. He wants to be the next secretary of state. That job is being vacated by Jim Edgar, who is running for governor.

In analyzing the November ballot, Ryan noted that to a man, all candidates for state office on the Democratic ticket are from Cook County. By contrast, he said, the Republican ticket has statewide balance.

Ryan, a one-time Kanakee pharmacist, took over a vacant office eight years ago from another pharmacist. Republican Dave O'Neil resigned after two years saying he was bored playing second fiddle to Big Jim Thompson.

Ryan says just the opposite has been true in his eight years as lieutenant governor. He ticks off an armful of accomplishments, activities and involvements.

A fashionable dresser, Ryan wore a long-sleeved shirt with French cuffs the day he stopped by. His cuff links were a pharmacist's mortar and pestle made of pewter. Late in the day his office called asking if we had found one of those cuff links. "He lost one somewhere and can't find it," the aide on the other end said. "It has great sentimental value."

Developers and opponents of open space are thwarting land acquisitions by the Forest Preserve Dist. at every opportunity—with the full cooperation of villages.

Two prime examples occurred last month. Grayslake accepted a donation of 26 acres from Florence McKay to block district access to the 1,000-acre Picket Fence Farm it approved purchasing last year. A few days later Round Lake Heights got a 10-foot buffer strip donation from the people who want to turn the 70-acre Fairfield Marsh into a 470-unit subdivision.

Two months ago Vernon Hills was given a 10-foot buffer strip adjoining Libertyville to stop the district from getting its hands on 475 acres of the Cuneo Estate.

"At this pace every village in Lake County will soon be surrounded by 10-foot green belts," F.T. "Mike" Graham commented. He's the champion open-space advocate who believes in trees and parks instead of homes and asphalt.

Big Democratic guns will show up for the Friday, May 4, dinner honoring state Rep. John Matijevec (D-North Chicago). The assistant House majority leader is being feted for his 24 years in the General Assembly. The bash will be at the Mundelein Holiday Inn.

Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan is honorary chairman. Guest speaker is Jim Burns, candidate for lieutenant governor in the fall election. He is the former federal prosecutor in Chicago, who made a name for himself by trying or supervising more than 1,000 drug enforcement cases in seven years.

Illinois Atty. Gen. Neil Hartigan, the Democratic candidate for governor, would like to attend, too. But a son is getting married that day. That's a command performance.

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa), the new chairman of the Lake County Republican Party, gets high marks for his first meeting of county committeemen.

The April 23 gathering in Waukegan was relatively short (11 p.m.), sweet and businesslike. Those who attended were impressed.

As expected, one of the major topics was a change in the new bylaws. Passed in early April, some committeemen are already chafing under the first rules of the party.

The Democratic Party has made note of this. It says the only way everyone can play the Democratic game is by the same set of rules.

Party Chairman Betty Ann Moore says the Democrats are light years ahead of the Republicans when it comes to voting within their own ranks for township or county chairman. The weighted vote is standard—voting strength based on the turnout in the last general election. Republicans, by contrast, use the weighted vote only to elect the county chairman. Otherwise, it is one man, one vote, no matter how big or small the man, the area or the issue.

That worked for the GOP when everyone marched to the same drummer. Today there are so many factions in the Lake County Republican Party the chairman needs someone to keep score. One way former Chairman Robert Neal kept the party in line was by voting his way—one man, one vote.

One of the bylaws being considered is a ban on closed Republican primaries. This is what happened last March when then County Chairman Robert Neal's hand-picked candidates for the County Board were promoted through a Jack Martin-Pat Connors-financed headquarters in Libertyville.

Peter Karlovics, a Republican precinct committeeman in Gurnee 245 for four years, is suggesting a change. He wants the Republican Central Committee forever prohibited from making primary endorsements. However, township committeemen can do so.

The change has been embraced by Avon, Libertyville, Zion and Benton townships, among others.

Karlovics said there is no double standard here; letting the township committeemen endorse, but not the Central Committee. "The local committeemen know the candidates, do the leg work and are out on the front line," he said.

Karlovics, an admirer of Warren Twp. Supv. Robert Depke, said Depke's battle for a return trip to the County Board in the March primary sparked his bylaws amendment. "The endorsement process hurt Depke," the Gurnee committeeman said.

Karlovics doesn't march to any political drummer. A law student at DePaul University, in March he supported conservative Steven Baer for governor. His idol, though, is Congressman Philip Crane (R-Arlington Heights).

sidelines. We thought a portion of the march should have been on Liberty St., where it would've received more attention. We hoped there would be some sort of a rally at the end of the march. Above all, we just wish more people had cared enough to be there.

My husband overheard a neighbor on Earth Day say that she was pretty tired of hearing about it. It seems that for some, even once every 20 years is too often to think or even hear of preserving this land for future generations. It isn't difficult to see why we need an Earth Day.

Land deal shameful

Editor:

How many more times does the Deer Trail Rd. Home and Landowners Assn. have to plead with the residents of Lake County before we all take notice. The Forest Preserve Board states they want to preserve open space. The Deer Trail Rd. Assn. has promised to deed most of the land to open space. The only thing they have is their homes and the land. They can't afford to fight the Forest Preserve Board in court. The Forest Preserve Board has our tax dollars at their disposal and can fight in court until the landowners are destitute.

Commissioner John Balen stated that their pledge to deed most of the land as open space was for the landowners' benefit, not for the public's benefit. As a member of the public, I would not enjoy using the Forest Preserve property, taken from honest, hardworking homeowners, land steeped in tears.

Shame on the residents of Lake County for allowing this to happen. How many wars were fought, and how many men died to give us the right to own land and the right to the pursuit of happiness.

Letters Invited

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

Tired of tax hikes

Editor:

The desire of Wauconda to furnish "affordable housing" for the influx of new residents has come full circle again in asking the incumbent residents to foot the bill in an upcoming tax referendum.

Quite a few things bother me because of their contradictory nature; such as recent articles that mention another elementary school will be needed within two years because of planned housing developments.

Since there already is one mobile classroom being used presently with three or four more planned for the next school term and knowing that our grade school students nearly fill the district's buildings now we are overflowing. It appears that a new school would only take care of our present needs and not be enough for the projected growth.

Figures for present enrollment of the schools are given at 2,355 students. Projected enrollment by 1993-94 should be 2,996. That is an increase of 641 students. Yet, the district wants $4-6 million for a new school to house between 450 and 550 elementary students. Well, in my math book that leaves out 91 to 191 students.

Governmental bodies have a responsibility for the welfare of its citizens. Putting them in a position of having a tax referendum two years after the last referendum passed does not seem responsible to me. Maybe the Wauconda Zoning Board should consider all the recent and planned developments in light of their economic effect on its citizens.

A developer gets annexed, zoned, and pays an impact fee that probably won't pay the cost of the books for the students it brings in, much less offset the total educational cost of $4,000 per student in our school district. Then, after the new residents move in, they are taxed like the rest of us, a year later.

Maybe Wauconda should rethink its development philosophy and for once think of the residents who are already here. We are tired of tax increases from every direction.

'But not in my backyard!'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final installment of a three-part series on the homeless in Lake County. Part one introduced some homeless individuals and those individuals and agencies trying to help. Part two focused on what could, or could not, be done to help. Part three looks at why the problem is so difficult to resolve, and what solutions may be needed to cope with the problem today and in the future.

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

"We have two to three times more people now than last year," Toby Jones estimates. "There are more homeless now and more of them are using the shelters." Jones is the director of the PADS program (Public Action to Deliver Shelter). PADS runs a series of ten shelters at local churches in Lake County for individuals and families who find themselves in need. This year PADS delivered over 5,000 nights of shelter to the homeless here in Lake County. Last year PADS provided 2,300 nights of shelter, so the figures have doubled over a one-year period. Catholic Charities of Lake County provided an additional 8,216 nights of shelter. Last year the official, unduplicated count of the homeless in the county listed 2,771 people. To say that the problem is growing might be an understatement.

An average night at the shelters saw thirty to thirty-five men, women and children sleeping on mats on floors in church basements, meeting halls, and other shelter sites within the county. The shelters were open seven days a week throughout the county. Their last day of operation was April 30. They will not open again until October 1.

"What we're seeing," said Jones of the rising homeless population, "is the legacy of Reaganomics." He cited drastic budget cuts at all levels and deinstitutionalization among the causes of the county-wide crisis. Jones also said that the tremendous cost-of-living increases in the last several years, compared against wage averages in the county, contributed significantly to the total problem.

Jones pointed to the demolition or deterioration of existing low-cost housing without any new development of such housing in Lake County as one of the prime reasons for the growing numbers his shelters are seeing.

"This is why there are over three million homeless in the United States and 2,800 in Lake County, the richest county in Illinois," Jones elaborated. "This is a huge problem and the combined efforts of all the social service agencies can't put a dent in the real problem."

If this prediction seems gloomy, the people working on the solution are not. Many of these people come out of the churches in Lake County and remain enthusiastic and hopeful even in the face of systematic despair.

"We have been fortunate," said Jackie Smith of Connections, the organization that runs PADS. "These churches have been so generous to us. It takes 12 volunteers to staff each site, plus another six or eight to cook, clean and do maintenance. So over 20 people give up their time to help the homeless each night, and it's all volunteer."

The churches also run the soup kitchens in the area. These feed from 75 to 100 people per meal, with larger numbers seen at the end of the month when food stamps and other assistance moneys have been stretched past their limit. There are eight soup kitchens in Lake County staffed by teams from many area churches. Fr. Paul Cull of St. Dismas calls it an inter-faith sharing program. His project, called St. Dismas Friends of the Hungry, hosts an disorderly guests.

"PADS is serving a smaller percentage of homeless women and children, when we know that this group is growing percentage-wise in Lake County. Are women and children choosing to stay away from our shelters as a handful of drunken males affect the PADS atmosphere?"

Many of those within the social services have been looking for a site for the past year. Weckstein said that a suitable site must be accessible to existing service agencies and must also have room for expansion along with meeting all code and zoning requirements, and so far no single site has met these needs.

"We need a place where people can shower, or lay their babies down for a nap," Weckstein explained. "We need a system admit that alcohol and drugs are a problem in the homeless community. "But what many people don't understand," says Greg Gola, who runs the Veteran's Domiciliary program at the VA Hospital, "is that over 50 percent of the homeless are under the age of 18, and another 20 percent are holding down jobs." He and others are anxious to point out that those people with drug and alcohol problems represent only a portion of the entire problem.

The Homeless In Lake County

"One of the problems we had," Barbara Weckstein of SER explained, "was that at the beginning nobody knew the problem was going to grow as large as it has. When Reagan began cutting back the federal housing subsidies, people were angry, but it took a number of years before the lack of units hit home. Unfortunately it has to hit home before people see the need to act."

One of the people who saw that need was Russell Miller, who has formed his own group, the Coalition for Rehabilitation of Affordable Housing. The group, which will host an open forum meeting on May 6, from 1 - 3 p.m. at the Waukegan Public Library, wants to take existing apartment units, rehab them, and then rent them out at nominal rates to those in the $10,000 - $20,000 income bracket.

Miller says that he can rehab an apartment unit, insure it for a minimum yard that can be fenced in so children have a safe place to run and play. We need laundry facilities, cooking facilities and places to store both clothing and food. In addition we need space for the offices where representatives from the various agencies can come and make themselves available to those who need them."

To the charge that many communities would be supportive of a center located somewhere else, "but not in my backyard," Weckstein said, "Cities will work with us as long as we don't ask them for too many variances from the code." At the moment they are looking at several properties in the Waukegan area.

Haig Paravonian, the mayor of Waukegan, has had his troubles with the homeless. To explain, he points to the proliferation of social service agencies in his community.

"Maybe these services need to go elsewhere," he suggested. "Everything the county wants goes into Waukegan. We're proud of being the county seat, but does that mean everything gets dumped into Waukegan?"

Paravonian sees the solution in the rehabilitation, not of buildings, but of individuals. Giving the homeless federal, state and local funds, he feels is not the answer. "We understand that people get funds, but they don't know how to handle it and they're out on the street again. Maybe that's what the Street People Task Force needs to be looking into, the rehabilitation of individuals. Once you achieve personal rehabilitation, the problem will solve itself."

Wherever the solution may lie, the money to achieve any solution will have to be found. "The days of the federal government just handing out money to social service agencies is over," said Weckstein. "What it's going to take now is a co-operative effort between the federal, state and local governments, private industries, and those individuals willing and able to help. No one source can fund an entire program anymore."

At the moment, agencies get their funding from a potpourri of sources. Many are funded with limited grants subsidized by the federal or state governments. More grant applications are filed with private philanthropic organizations. The United Way funds many, but in turn receives its funding from a variety of sources.

All these organizations stress the importance of personal contributions and private donations as one of their most significant sources of funding.

Whether the solution lies in funding, jobs, affordable housing, or individual rehabilitation, the people who most need the solutions won't be the ones to decide what happens. That will be up to the federal, state and local governments, the social service agencies and any individuals willing to become involved. This last may indicate the largest need of all.

"PADS has reached its limit. The PADS shelters were never designed to be a place to hide the homeless from view," said Jones. "Maybe it's time to make a stink, and tell people how many of their neighbors don't have shelter."

Maybe then, Jones and others feel, a real solution can be found.

I was hungry and you formed a humanities club and discussed my hunger. Thank you.

I was imprisoned and you crept off quietly to your chapel and prayed for my release.

I was naked and in your mind you debated the morality of my appearance.

I was sick and you knelt and thanked God for your health.

I was homeless and you preached to me of the spiritual shelter of the love of God.

I was lonely and you left me alone to pray for me.

You seem so holy, so close to God. But I'm still very hungry and lonely and cold.

Holy Family Church Bulletin

annual fundraiser to raise money for these soup kitchens. Last year the group raised $13,000.

The money is distributed among soup kitchens throughout the county. "The teams purchase some of the food they serve and some is donated by Abbott Labs, St. Therese Hospital and local restaurants from around the county," explained Fr. Cull.

The teams also purchase the plates, cups, cutlery, and napkins needed to eat the food provided. Churches donate the buildings, but money and volunteers are always needed.

Burnout is a problem that all service organizations face. In the PADS newsletter, Toby Jones addressed the problem bluntly: "This season PADS found itself in a very difficult position, not only bursting at the seams numerically, but also spending more and more volunteer energy trying to police and control a small number of drunk and of $136, and then rent a four-bedroom duplex for $260. "It can be done, if you're not greedy," boasts Miller. Miller claims he's already rehabbed and rented out 49 units.

While many might not be willing to do what Miller has done, lack of affordable housing is cited by most people within the system as the leading cause of homelessness today.

One thing that SER/Fair Housing is trying to do is to open a drop-in center in one central location where people in need could go for assistance, cutting down on the time and frustration that scattered locations now produce.

"When you tell someone who's been walking all morning just to get to your office that now you're sending them somewhere else, you're increasing their feeling of victimization, and many times they don't follow through out of sheer frustration," said Weckstein.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What is meant by "Single-stitch" cataract surgery?
ANSWER: During cataract surgery, the eye's natural lens, which has become cloudy, is removed. Most frequently, the focusing function of the natural lens is replaced with a small, plastic lens implanted in the eye during the surgery. This procedure requires only a very small incision through which a tiny ultra-sound wand is inserted to "pulverize" and vacuum out the cataract. Then a flexible plastic lens is folded in half, inserted into the eye, unfolded and put in place. The incision is small enough to be closed with a single surgical stitch.

If you are are considering having a cataract removed consult your ophthalmologist to determine if this surgical technique is appropriate for you.

Millburn Art Gallery

Dawn Revenaugh (above), owner of Millburn Art Gallery off Rte. 45, feels her establishment is a very different kind of art gallery and hopes to keep it that way. The gallery offers a variety of services, with one of the most unique ones being its laser disc player. See story for more details.—Photos by Malena Schroeder

Revenaugh's gallery a 'comfortable' one

by MALENA SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

For years, Dawn Revenaugh had a standing joke with her family. Finding herself with all the objects one acquires with four children, two dogs and a husband, she always kidded that she needed to find a house in the country with a four car garage.

Seven years ago, she happened upon a tempting ad in her local newspaper describing just that. But having lived in Lake Forest for most of her life, nobody took her seriously. Three months later their home was up for sale and they moved to Millburn, Ill., a town begun by Scotch settlers in the late 1830s.

The home consisted of the main living quarters, a guest house and a chicken coop/goat barn. It was originally a working person's farmhouse from the 1890s. But the property had commercial zoning, so surrounded by McDonald

Woods Forest Preserve and two small streams it seemed a natural setting to display art. The Revenaughs, Bill and Dawn, decided to launch "The Millburn Art Gallery."

Nestled behind the farmhouse lies the gallery. Built in 1983, it replaced the old goat barn and chicken coop. As you enter, you immediately notice the clean look of the fresh white walls in contrast to the red brick floors. The ceilings are angled on both sides with track lighting and generous skylights which reveal the ancient willows that hover above outside.

"Some galleries can be intimidating," comments Dawn, the director. "But ours is a comfortable gallery. There are people who come in with fabric swatches and paint samples looking for a piece to complement their decor. Then there are those who buy a piece because they simply fall in love with it. And for those who like a certain artist's style, they can commission a piece through us."

The Millburn Gallery offers a variety of services, but one of the most unique is the use of their laser disc player. The player projects over 8,500 pieces of art on a high resolution screen, from decorative posters to original works. "This system allows you to see more art in one viewing than you could see in years of visiting galleries," adds Dawn. The player is conveniently available for clients to take home and view at their leisure. "We're sort of out in the boondocks but we have the most advanced technology available and can find just about anything a person may want."

Among the other services the gallery offers are custom framing and conservation matting, a process which not only complements the work of art, but also helps to preserve it.

There are always a variety of exhibits featured. Presently showing through July is a mixture of recent works by area artists. One of the guest artists, Steven Fink, deals in rustic metal sculptures of up to five feet created from recycled farm metals and wares.

"Our openings have the artists present," states Dawn. "This provides the clients the opportunity to get to meet them. It also provides the artists with the opportunity to know where their works end up. To them, their paintings are like their children and they like to know where they go."

As Dawn admits, they have a very different kind of art gallery and they hope to keep it that way. "We don't scare people away," she states. "It's very exciting that we offer a comfortable atmosphere."

The Millburn Gallery is opened Thursday through Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. and by appointment at (708)356-3022. It is located in northern Lake County on Rte. 45. With a blink of an eye you could miss it, but once found, your eyes will be opened to all the treasures it holds.

Use a plan for your successful investing

by CHARLES WHITE

Where do you start when you decide its time to begin investing, rather than simply saving your hard earned dollars?

You may be somewhat disappointed in the return you are getting on your money right now but you like the security and the ability to access it is necessary. It should come as no surprise that guarantees and liquidity are provided, but only at a price.

The price you pay is illustrated simply by the difference between what a bank CD pays and the rates a bank charges to loan out their money. Since most people are not equipped to make loans, however, a bank serves a useful purpose and is therefore able to continue making a profit on the money deposited there.

What is wrong with earning a consistent, guaranteed rate of 8 percent? Not a thing, as long as that particular investment is not your only one. If, for example, the inflation rate runs five percent again this year and you shell out approximately 30.75 percent in taxes on your income, your real return on the eight percent investment in only .54 percent this year. At that rate, it would take you over 133 years to double your money.

This may explain why you might be asking if there is something more you could be doing?

This question can best be answered by a competent financial planner who would analyze your goals and current financial picture, then prepare an investment plan tailored to your needs. The investment plan should be set up to address each of your goals individually and take into account the time allowed to reach each one.

You may, for instance, want to retire at age 55, which might be 15 years away. Your children may start college in five years and you may want that new car in two years. Each goal needs to be planned for separately, since different investments would be used for various time horizons. Your ability to withstand risk should also be discussed and factored into the plan. It is your very likely that you will be faced with tradeoffs, such as increasing your investment yield (and your risk) or adjusting your goals downward.

You must remember that risk is not a bad four-letter word. Everything you put money into has some type of risk. If you purchase conservative, guaranteed investments, you have the risk of higher inflation reducing those returns. If you put your money under your mattress, it may be stolen or burned up with your house. The lists could go on, but the point is you cannot completely avoid risk.

The proper attitude toward risk is to balance risk and to diversify your investments efficiency, so stick to your plan.

The next level is really

This Way to Wealth

so you achieve the most return possible for the risk you take. A good investment plan will do just that, lay out what to invest in to achieve the most "risk efficient" return. You then make investment decisions based upon your plan, not "because it sounded good at the time."

A good plan will begin with setting aside a minimum of three months living expenses. This should be kept fairly liquid and safe, such as in a money market fund. Having this amount set aside will allow you to cover emergencies which tend to throw you off your investment plan. Next are your secure dollars, which could be invested in CD's, insurance contracts or investment grade bonds. These form the base of your investment pyramid, but do not necessarily mean you place the highest percentage of your money into these categories. Remember, you are seeking balance and wide open. You may want to consider stocks (both common and preferred), medium grade bonds (BBB or better), participating mortgages, cash flow oriented real estate, convertible bonds or balanced income mutual funds. Your plan will suggest the appropriate amount of dollars that should go into some or all of these.

Most experts agree that mutual funds are good vehicles for the majority of individual portfolios and make good sense for the novice investor. They offer professional management, liquidity, diversification and growth potential. Single issues of stocks or bonds cannot offer the same level of diversification or professional management. Your planner should be prepared to recommend several funds for your portfolio, which will help meet your different goals. You should concentrate on funds which have above average 5 and 10 year performance results and not chase the latest "hot" fund.

Once you gain experience in the mutual fund area and begin achieving some net worth, it would then be appropriate for you to begin branching out into individual issues, which offer you more control. You may not have the time necessary to manage your stocks/bonds however, so it may be wise to find an individual money manager who can do it for you. They charge a fee comparable to mutual fund managers, but can tailor a portfolio for your specific needs.

In conclusion, if you think you could be achieving a better rate of return on your savings, you probably can. Take the time to obtain a workable investment plan for you goals as it will save a lot of headaches and time later. Keep the proper perspective of risk and balance it to increase efficiency. Consider using mutual funds to increase your portfolio returns, while managing risk and staying ahead of inflation and taxes.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

The Foundation for the Study of Cycles believes that history repeats itself.

The foundation is an international, non-profit research and educational institute. Before you dismiss this organization as just another think tank, consider that it was started by Edward Dewey, a noted economist, who was charged by the Hoover Administration to study the causes of the crash of 1929.

Dewey's findings on economic cycles were so compelling that he, along with the head of the Smithsonian Institute, formed a foundation to study different cycles.

However, cycles can vary by many months. It's important to remember that the study of cycles is about identifying repetitive events, not necessarily, their precise timing.

The bottom line is that there is no guaranteed method of predicting anything. There is, however, a strong case for economic cycles.

If you'd like to learn more about this unique organization, you can call them at (714) 261-7261 or write to 3333 Michelson Drive, Suite 210, Irvine, CA 92715-1607.

Tri State Realty opens doors in Lake County

One of Illinois' most rapidly developing industrial corridors is now home to Tri State Realty, a premier full service commercial realty company specializing in Lake County and Northern Cook counties.

Tri State Realty (TSR) has the capability to handle all phases of a commercial real estate transaction. Through its partnership with Tom Rosenquist, owner of Lake County Grading, Gerald Vargo, president of Lake Partners, and Robert Elbrecht, president of TSR, the venture is equipped to conduct office/industrial leasing and sales, land and investment sales, as well as property management and consulting services.

In addition, TSR actively interfaces with construction firms, office furniture/space planning concerns, municipal officials, moving companies, and other firms who make TSR a true full service realtor.

President and broker, Elbrecht is an authority on Lake County real estate. His experience includes five years as an asset manager at the Northern Trust Bank, four years in commercial real estate sales at Frain Camins Swartzchild, and a bachelor's of science degree in real estate from Arizona State Univ. While at the Northern Trust and FC&S, Elbrecht specialized in Lake and Northern Cook County real estate.

Elbrecht believes, "Commercial real estate is no longer a broker who cold calls and submits properties to clients, developers and institutional players. These parties are demanding a broker who understands the dynamics of various real estate transactions as well as historical and current real estate demographics."

Presently, Tri State Realty is seeking educated brokers who are interested in providing these types of services to clients.

TSR is off to an impressive start with two significant exclusive listings, the Grant Tri State Business Park and the Chicago Transit Authority's Lake County Real Estate Portfolio.

The Midwest's most ambitious business park, the Grand Tri State Business Park, is a 270-acre high-tech industrial and office development in Gurnee. Developed by T.R.L.P., a joint venture, the park has already attracted several prominent occupants. These include: North American headquarters for Domino Amjet of Cambridge, England, Kenall Mfg. from Chicago's north side, Squire Cogswell of Northbrook, Chugai USA of Japan, and most recently, Duphar Nutrition, member of the Solvay Group of Belgium.

Available properties for corporate users include: 41,600 square feet of office space in units from 2,000 square feet, three spec industrial buildings in units of 7,700-40,000 square feet, and 160-acres of land in units of 1.84-100-acres.

The CTA's Lake County Real Estate Portfolio consists of four industrial properties in Waukegan and Libertyville totaling 350,000 square feet. The portfolio is currently 100 percent leased.

? Restricting Smoking, Can It Save Employers $?

A Question From The Illinois Chamber HELPLINE

Q. Is it possible for my company to save money by restricting smoking in the workplace?

A. Yes, but it is difficult to acquire data on the amount of savings. Some reports cite figures ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 per year in savings. Most employers change smoking policies not for cost savings but to protect the health of employees and ensure a safe working environment.

IF EMPLOYERS WOULD LIKE MORE INFORMATION ON THIS AND OTHER CHAMBER SERVICES, CALL 312-372-7373.

Film Review

Films involving crooked cops and the district attorney's office are nothing new, but "Q and A" (Question and Answer) rates among the best of its type to come around in a few years.

Loud kudos for the top performances of the cop, played by Nick Nolte, and the DA, played by Timothy Hutton.

But another actor steals the picture from these two greats, Armand Assanti, playing a witness whose live-in girlfriend used to belong to a lawman.

The DA's investigation of Nolte concerns his killing of a drug dealer that smells of possible racism and reeks of murder.

Sidney Lumet, who specializes in cop dramas, remember his "Serpico," does a fantastic job on this one which could be in this season's award running.

We're going to give it 4.5 out of five stars for three top performances and great directing.

Outstanding cast delivers new hit

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

The first co-op production to be put together by Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre in the northern Chicago area and Candlelight Playhouse on the south side, "Into the Woods," has opened to audience raves.

This Emmy Award winning musical stars several well-known fairytale characters as we've never seen them before.

While the storyline is really a metaphor on life and all its problems and perks, the second act introduces us to people like Little Red Riding Hood and Cinderella who are definitely not the two Mommy read us bedtime stories about.

"Woods" is one of those plays that's a slow starter but builds to a resoundingly enjoyable crescendo in the second act.

In this one, Stephen Sondheim's music, though catchy and many times melodiously beautiful, falls short of the hit category. But then it does enhance the play.

Producers William Pullinsi of Candlelight and Kary Walker of Marriott obviously have a hit on their hands and much of it is dependent on the stellar cast they have gathered.

Hollis Reznick, who plays the gnarled old witch who turns breathtakingly beautiful by the end of the show, may have another Jeff Award-winning performance here to add to her collection.

Her Witch is funny and probably the most outstanding part of the play.

Although the entire cast is top notch, standouts are Ross Leman as the Baker from "A Baker and his Wife," John Reuss as Cinderella's prince, and William Brown who plays the narrator.

Marriott favorite Shannon Cochran plays the baker's wife with aplomb and alacrity. Others deserving a big round of applause for their performances are Margaret Ingram as Cinderella's mother, David Lewman as and Rapunzel's prince, Melissa Dye as Red Riding Hood, and Karin Berutti as Lucinda.

Nancy Missimi's costumes do her proud, as does the musical direction courtesy of Albert Potts III.

"Woods" is due to go to Candlelight after what bodes to be a very successful run in Lincolnshire.

Ferguson comes to Opera House

On Saturday, May 5, at 8 p.m., Maynard Ferguson and High Voltage will again make their appearance at the Woodstock Opera House after a three-year absence.

Ferguson and High Voltage, one of the most popular, high energy jazz/fusion bands performing today, is heading into its third year. They are currently embarking on a 30 day tour of Japan.

Early '89 saw the release of their second album recorded on Intima Records, "High Voltage II," coupled with a six week U.S. tour from west to east.

Ferguson and High Voltage, a seven-piece electronic fusion band consisting of virtuoso trumpeter, Ferguson, sax, percussion, guitar, keyboards, bass and drums, are a collaboration of creativity, excitement and, most of all, adventure. High voltage is electronic, but the actual selection of musicians was based on great acoustic musicianship and the individuals' love of adventure into computerized sound that's so much a part of today's music.

Three-time Grammy nominee and continual Downbeat award winner, Ferguson has been performing since 1939 when he first soloed as a child prodigy with the Canadian Broadcasting Company orchestra at 11 years old.

He is a potent force in the world of music education, making time to personally encourage young musicians. An instrument designer, record producer, composer, arranger, symphonic guest artist, and film soundtrack artist, Ferguson is a diverse and energetic musician whose talents add to his status as celebrated trumpet player/band leader.

Fairytale characters

Tony Award-winning musical, "Into the Woods," opened at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre to rave reviews. In cast of 'unusual' fairytale characters are, from left, Sam Samuelson as Jack in the Beanstalk; Jennifer Nees, Cinderella; Ross Lehman, The Baker; Shannon Cochran, The Baker's Wife; and Melissa Dye as Little Red Riding Hood.

MAINSTREAM

Now cheatin's not cheatin' anymore

When I think about it...

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

In the 1980s, a boon to those of us that are always diet conscious, Nutrasweet, allowed us to satiate our overactive sweet teeth, while still watching our calories.

Then as Mother Nature and Father Time (You've noticed how thin they are) ushered in the 1990s, low fat with a controlled cholesterol factor was the media hype of the year.

With medical warnings about high cholesterol causing strokes, etc., the country was suddenly reading labels and counting fat grams, and the almighty calorie-counting slipped by the wayside.

Although dairy foods have always been among my favorites, they certainly don't fall in the category of diet food. To date, and to my complete depression, no diet has included whole milk, ice cream, hard cheeses, milk shakes, chips and dip and etc.

But Ta da ta da! Simplex has been discovered!

Now milk shakes, frozen ice cream desserts, coffee cakes, cookies etc. may be added, in small controlled amounts, to even the strictest diet.

There's even a lowcal fat free dip to be scooped up by the new lite potatoe chips, light on the fat content that is.

Even though the taste of most of these products is sinful, the most dedicated Jewish mother could not lay one shadow of guilt on her dieting children because of "cheating" with one of these goodies.

Entemanns has lept up front in the market for cholesterol fat free bakery goods that don't taste like cardboard. My personal favorite is the pineapple crunch cake.

Last week, at the Ninth Annual Writers Conference held in Washington, D. C., following two seminar talks on cholesterol control, Jerry Dryer from Gorman Publishing told the media about all the wonderful down right cheatin' foods that were on the market.

The biggest news is that McDonalds will be offering fat free soft serve frozen yogurt and fat free milk shakes. Even if they do accompany French fries and a Big Mac, every little bit counts, or doesn't count as the matter may be.

Other new products in the bull pen are low fat chocolate milk, non alcoholic low fat egg nog flavored with Southern Comfort.

Other liquor flavored cream drinks like low fat Irish Cream are in the offing.

A great variety of fat free, lowcal yogurts are being touted by the boys from Madison Ave., available in all sorts of forms and flavors.

There's even a fat free drinkable yogurt.

The new fat free ice cream already in the grocer's freezers is being greeted by the consumer, especially the Mom type consumer, with open grocery carts.

For those of us that love cheese, lite cheeses with 33 percent less fat content are already here, even cream cheese which is sliceable.

And lite chips can now be dipped in low fat cheese dips.

One will not have to feel the slightest guilt pang when crumbling the new low fat blue cheese on their favorite salad.

The secret of the shole thing is to read the labels carefully before adding anyof these to your diet. And, for anyone who is trying to watch their weight or cholesterol count, they are meant to be extra special treats.

Besides being expensive, consuming of the fat free goodies in large amounts sort of defeats their purpose.

Maybe the fact that Simplex is made from natural whey will mean that scientists won't pull it from the market a few years from now, after were all thin and spoiled, because it will grow hair on your elbows. How lucky can we get!

He started working on his grammy at four

Caleb (Jake) Blake

Blake has won a Grammy.

A project by Blake and eight fellow students at the University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh, in a class in recording technology, took one of five student "Grammy" awards. They won the NARAS Student Music Award for "Outstanding Achievement in the Recording Arts" for the composition "Simon" which was submitted in the "Traditional" (country, bluegrass, folk, blues) category.

The award was for a work composed, performed and recorded by students. Entries were judged in all three areas by the Student Awards Nominating Committee of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS). It is the first year that NARAS has given out the student awards.

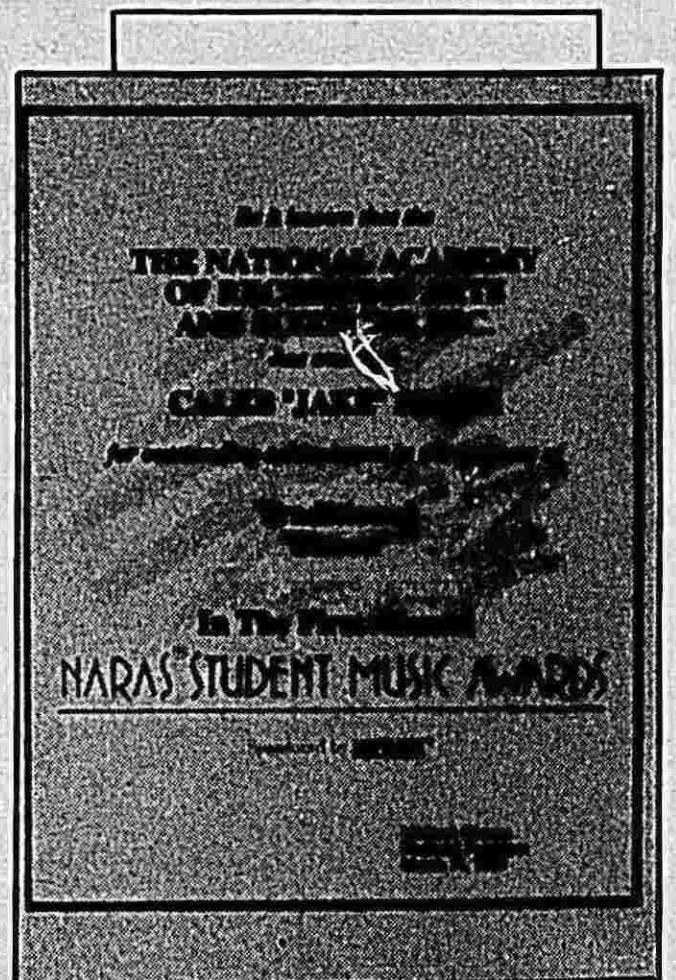

"To think that there were only five awards given out and that competition came from students at outstanding universities across the land shows you what an accomplishment this is," said Wally Messner, head of the department's recording technology program and instructor of the recording technology practicum class that produced the winning project.

Twenty-one year old Blake is the son of Jack and Nancy Blake of Wauconda, the oldest of five children and a senior at UW-O where he is a music major. His talents got a big assist from his musical mom and dad.

Although an oil executive in practice, Jack Blake is a musician in his heart. He played with Jim Croce while in college and later formed Blake's Night Train Band that performed throughout the Wauconda area for years. Nancy Blake had a strong background in musical theatre and was also a vital part of Blake's Night Train Band.

Future plans for young Blake include a trip to Orlando, Fla. in May to check out a production/public relations job at Disney World and a jaunt to L.A. where an advertising/commercial career beckons. His ultimate goal is to own his own recording studio... and what else would you expect from someone who played the entire score of a rock opera singlehanded!

Grammy Award

He was keeping the beat on a plastic guitar when he was four. At six he was anticipating chord changes in music he had never heard. When he turned eight, he was the lead base in Blake's Night Train Band.

By 11, with perfect pitch, he could play any instrument. For fun he recorded the rock musical "Tommy," playing every instrument, dubbing it in and never missing a beat. And today, Caleb "Jake"

Players' 'Murders' to benefit council

All the proceeds from the upcoming Kirk Players production of "The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940" will benefit the Lake County Arts Council's Regranting Program.

The Lake County Arts Council receives $10,000 annually from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, for its regranting program.

In return, the Lake County Arts Council is required to raise a match of 50 percent or $5,000.

From that total, $500 is used for promotional and operating expenses; and the remaining $14,500 is regranted to Lake County Arts groups to support new or additional events beyond regularly budgeted programs. This year, 25 different groups will benefit from the grant funds. "The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940," under the direction of John W. Lynn, will be presented on May 11 and 12, at 8 p.m., at Mundelein High School.

Adult tickets are $5; students, $3, and seniors and children under 12 are $2. For further information, call (708)249-2281.

Whether glorified with sour cream, cheese, bacon or chives, their compatibility with a number of different flavors has certainly added to the popularity of potatoes.

However you choose to sauce, sprinkle, shred or fluff them, try some of my ideas to pep you your next evening meal.

Swing partners at Adler Center

The whole family can get into the swing of things at a traditional community barn dance on Saturday, May 5 at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., in Libertyville.

Experienced dance caller and teacher, Tony Scarimbolo, will teach each dance first so even the most inexperienced dancer can join in the fun. An added treat for all will be the opportunity to dance to the old time music of the Shake A Foot stringband.

The circle, square, and line dances taught represent an important part of our heritage as Americans and still provide community members with a change to enjoy the simple joys of fellowship. The legion hall in Libertyville has been the site of many such dances for decades and provides a living link to a simpler time.

Admission is $4 for adults; $3 for seniors and Cultural Center members; $2 for children nine to 15; and free to children eight years and younger. Tickets are available at the door the evening of the event. There

Summer salsa potatoes

A real Mexican-y flavor with the homemade salsa atop the cottage cheese filled baked potato. Serve with a basic grilled or baked chicken or fish and wedges of fresh lemon or lime.

- 3/4 cup finely chopped tomato
- 3/4 cup finely chopped zucchini
- 3/4 cup finely chopped cucumber
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 2 oz. (1/2 cup) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 8-oz. bottle mild taco sauce
- 6 medium baking potatoes, scrubbed
- 2 Tbl. butter, melted
- 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
- 12-oz. carton creamed cottage cheese

In large bowl, combine chopped vegetables and cheese. Pour taco sauce over vegetables; toss until well coated. Allow vegetables to marinate at least 2 hours before serving.

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Pierce scrubbed potatoes with fork. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until tender. Make a large slit lengthwise down center of each potato and push together at ends to create a well. Place potatoes in ungreased 13 by 9 inch (3 quart) baking dish. Combine melted butter and garlic powder; spoon evenly over inside of each potato. Fill each potato with about 1/4 cup cottage cheese. Spoon about 1/3 cup vegetable mixture over each potato. Return to oven and bake an additional 15 to 20 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Serve immediately.

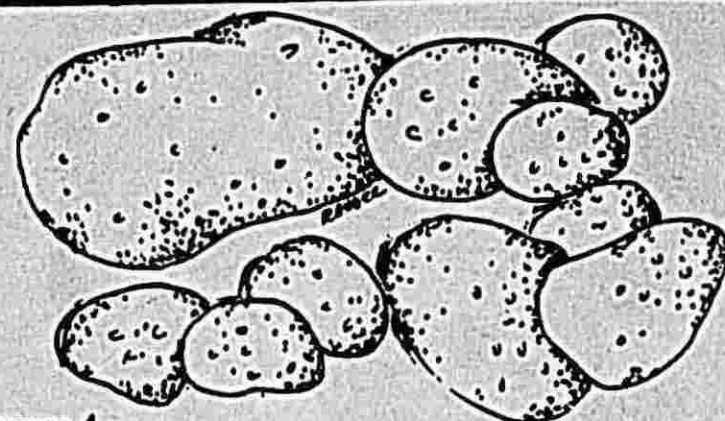

Makes 6 servings.

Lemon buttered new potatoes

These are easy and special. A garlic-y grilled lamb and fresh vegetables would go beautifully together.

- 8 to 12 small new potatoes
- 1/3 cup butter
- 2 Tbl. chopped fresh parsley
- 1 tsp. grated lemon peel
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/8 tsp. nutmeg
- 3 Tbl. lemon juice

Pare a strip around center of each potato. Cook potatoes in small amount of boiling water until fork tender; drain well. In small saucepan, melt butter. Add remaining ingredients; heat thoroughly. Place hot potatoes in serving dish; pour butter mixture over potatoes.

Serves 4.

Special spuds

Easy oven-baked potato wedges with the surprise covering of crunchy cornflake crumbs. Good to prepare inside in the oven to accompany grilled meat outside.

- 2 medium baking potatoes, scrubbed, cut into 3/4 inch wedges
- 1/3 cup prepared sweet and spicy French salad dressing
- 1/2 to 3/4 cup cornflake crumbs

Heat oven to 350 degrees. In medium bowl, combine potato wedges and dressing; toss. Roll each in crumbs to coat. Place skin side down in ungreased jelly roll pan or on cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degree for 35 to 40 minutes or until deep golden brown and potatoes are tender.

Makes 4 servings.

French fried potato skins

What a fun and different appetizer to serve with the usual cheese and crackers, chips and dips. Guess which one your friends will pick up first?

- 6 large baking potatoes
- vegetable oil
- 1 Tbl. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Cut 1/2 inch wide strips of skin lengthwise from potatoes with vegetable parer. (Reserve potatoes for another dish). Cover with ice and water; let stand 30 minutes. Drain; pat dry.

Heat oil (1 1/2 inches) in 3-quart saucepan to 375 degrees. Fry about 10 potato skins at a time until golden brown and crisp, 2 to 3 minutes; drain. Mix remaining ingredients; sprinkle over hot potato skins. Serve hot or cold.

Makes about 6 dozen appetizers.

Hawaii's Historic Coco Palms Resort

by JIM WARNKEN
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I don't usually devote an entire column to just one resort, but I'm going to make an exception for the Coco Palms.

Not only does it have a history dating from ancient Hawaiian royalty, but it was the setting for several prominent movies of the 40's, 50's and 60's as well as a very famous TV series. It's also on my favorite island of the Hawaiian Chain, the Island of Kauai.

The 45 acres upon which the Coco Palms is located was once owned by the Queen of Kauai. The resort's beautiful lagoons were used to fatten turtles and mullet for her table.

You might recognize the bridge that crosses the lagoon. It was from here that Mr. Roark welcomed guests to Fantasy Island.

Mitzi washed a man right out of her hair right on these grounds, as the movie South Pacific was filmed at this resort. A little farther up the coast is the secluded "Nurses' Beach" also used as a set for that film. Ask a local (or me) for detailed directions.

You real Elvis fans may already know that Blue Hawaii was filmed at the Coco Palms. Elvis loved Hawaii and this resort. He stayed here many times after completing that movie. Ask to see the cottage he would call home during his many visits to Hawaii.

Want to go one better than spending your honeymoon at this dream resort? Why not get married here in a chapel built for Rita Hayworth! Your travel agent can arrange the whole thing complete with minister.

As I said, the Coco Palms resort is on the island of Kauai, the most western of the Hawaiian chain. Flying into Kauai, you will land at the Lihue Airport. From there take Highway 50 North about 10 miles. The Coco Palms will be on your left at Highway 580. Regardless of where you stay in Hawaii, a visit to the Coco Palms is a must.

Early

Church celebrates 50th

Nearly 200 diners got the 50th anniversary celebration of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church off to successful start at a Sunday night family supper at Maravella's Restaurant.

The festive atmosphere was highlighted by the fourth address of the day given by the Rev. Jennings Feroe, Trinity's first pastor, who officiated at three services Sunday morning.

Now a resident of Minnesota and in his 80's, Pastor Feroe regaled members with tales of Trinity's early days and the struggle to establish a new parish.

Brad Jones added more history with a narration on the different eras of the growing parish at Long Lake.

Next event in the summer-long observance will be an outdoor service and family picnic Sunday, June 10, at Old School House Forest Preserve.

Col. Bill 'gets away' during Fort Meyers Trip

by BILL RADKE

When the white sand beaches of Fort Myers Beach are washed by quiet rolling waves, and 80-degree temperatures brush sunshine against our winter-weary white skin, the reasons for our trip become as clear as Florida's clear skies. We needed the change.

The beach is a separate area unrelated to Fort Myers. It's big attraction is seven miles of white sand which reaches gently into the surf. Sort of built-in safety for the 4,000 residents. That number jumps to nearly 42,000 at "season" height during the four-week Easter holiday break period as vacationers enjoy one of nature's special places. Man has added lodgings and restaurants that offer the finest in sea food along with usual family, fancy or fast-food menus and food markets.

All this is only part of the Lee County Coastal Recreation Complex of 650,00 acres, 600 miles of shoreline, and 50 miles of beaches; a third of which are public. Fifty five parks offer 3,500 campsites and 1,600 holes of golf are playable all year. For the angler, Lee County rates as the Tarpon Fishing Capitol of the World, and its beaches rank No. 3 for their North American shell finding potential.

They are studded with 25 public beaches and wildlife refuges. It's a wonderful area to enjoy the outdoors at any time of year, but particularly now when comfort contrasts are greatest. Details are available by a call to the Lee County Tourism Office at 1(800)237-6440.

"You'll like this cruise" our guide told us, "it's on the Fort Dearborn." A familiar name to Chicagoans. "The operator is from Chicago," she added, "and we're going to visit Cabbage Key for lunch."

It's the same boat which tours Chicago's waterfront, summer and fall. Like us, it commutes to Florida to enjoy the weather...and to keep busy.

Cabbage Key, one of its regular ports is a small barrier island with a long history that goes back to when the Calusa Indians were inhabitants who lived on the sea shell marine life of this prolific area. Shell piles on Cabbage Key reached 38 feet, making it a high point in these barriers.

It was purchased by the family of mystery writer Mary Roberts Rinehart as a hideaway in 1929. Original buildings have been enlarged and the "old building" now serves as a restaurant and inn with just a few rooms, remote and distinctive... and affordable by reservation.

Restaurant walls, posts and ceiling are covered with signed and dated dollar bills, taped by visitors to all surfaces. An estimated 10,000 are on display. These are being added to by hundreds of daily visitors. Some fall off, and close to $3,000 a year of these go to local charities.

Isolated, it also attracts celebrities who drop in for the remote freedom it offers. Ted Koppel, ABC's "Nightline" anchorman made his way through the diners in shorts, jacket and shoulder pack, with his usually plastered down tv hair flying in the breeze. Generous hamburgers and sea foods are the popular menu items.

On our return to the Captiva Key home port, a half dozen dolphins picked us up enroute and accompanied our course briefly, first on the left and then the right side of Fort Dearborn's hull. We wondered if they might be from Brookfield Zoo's Dolphinarium; and like us, down for a holiday.

Critic's Choice

'Money' look at business community

by TOM WITOM

On any given day, the financial pages are rife with "poison pill," "Anti-greenmail provisions," "golden parachutes" and other colorful terms used by corporate America to defend itself against unfriendly takeovers.

Jerry Sterner's successful off-Broadway play, "Other People's Money," in its Midwest debut at Chicago's Royal-George Theater, takes those business strategies and brings them to life by breathing an anecdotal flesh-and-blood story around them.

It's a riveting tale, and not a very pretty one at that, for its essence is human greed.

Edgar Meyer is Andrew Jorgenson, two years from retirement as head of a 73-year-old New England wire and cable company whose biggest sin is that it has outlived its potential. While the core operation has fallen on hard times, its diverse subsidiaries are profitable.

Jorgenson is determined to maintain the status quo without compromising his principles. He wants to do what's right by stockholders, yet he knows if he loses control, outsiders will "maximize shareholder value" by selling off the wire and cable operation and firing some 2,000 workers.

New England Wire & Cable's nemesis is played with perfect brashness by Peter Van Wagner as Lawrence (Larry the Liquidator) Grafinkle, a takeover specialist who blatantly admits he's in the game "just for the money."

Garfinkle is the kind of power broker you love to hate. Crass, manipulative, deceitful and a sexist, he knows exactly the right buttons to push to get his way - and he uses them unflinchingly.

A strong supporting cast finds Mary Ann Thebus as the faithful employee willing to abandon her life savings in order to thwart the hostile attempt; Elizabeth Hess plays her lawyer daughter, who is awed by the power of her opponent and moved by a wavering sense of ethics.

And Richard Henzel does a fine job as the CEO caught in the middle and worried mainly about saving his own hide.

The verbal fireworks climax at a stirring annual meeting, where shareholder get the final say on the future of their investments.

"Other People's Money," scheduled for an open run, presents a cold but intelligent look at a malaise that strikes at the business community.

At Woodstock

Tom Chapin, will perform at a special matinee for children at 2 p.m. on Saturday June 2, at the Woodstock Opera House. There will be an evening concert for all ages at 8 p.m.

Kalicki kids used to footlights

by TOM WITOM

The handsomely refurbished Chicago Theater and the venerable Auditorium Theater over the years have hosted countless great singers, actors and dancers, not to mention a host of lesser luminaries still honing their talents as part of the supporting cast, still waiting to be "discovered."

Part of that latter broad constellation striving to make the leap to stardom some day just happens to represent hometown talent.

The Kalicki children from Lake Zurich, Barbara, 13, Lloyd, 12, and Arnold, 8, despite their age know what it's like to appear on the other side of the footlights.

For three years in a row, 1986 through 1988, Lloyd was part of the "Nutcracker" cast at Aric Crown Theater in Chicago's McCormick Place. He and his brother have performed at the Auditorium Theater in "Giselle," "Sleeping Beauty," and "Romeo and Juliet," while Barbara danced in "The Nutcracker" with the Pennsylvania Ballet at the same theater.

Last fall at the Chicago Theater Barbara was a mushroom, Lloyd a timekeeper and Arnold an attendant in "Cinderella." And all three had roles, from Tiny Tim to street urchins, in "A Christmas Carol" at the Avenue Theater.

Asked if she developed a case of the jitters when going on stage, Barbara replied, "Not particularly," with the confidence of a veteran.

"Their confidence comes from experience plus years of training," said Pat Kalicki, proud mother and full-time chauffeur for her talented offspring. Her husband Lloyd works for the airlines, and she quips: "I work for the kids."

Besides attending regular classes (Barbara is in eighth grade; Lloyd, seventh, and Arnold, third) and attaining "honor roll status or close to it," the Kalickis have taken lessons in ballet, tap and jazz dancing locally and in Chicago at the Ruth Page Foundation School of Dance, where Arnold has a scholarship.

All three play the piano, and Barbara is studying the flute and Lloyd the trumpet.

When Mrs. Kalicki isn't taxiing her children to lessons, tryouts or rehearsals, there's always ice skating practice and competitions. Both Barbara and Lloyd were members of the Star Dusters, a precision drill team at the Barrington Ice Arena. Last year, in Detroit, their team captured a first-place national championship title.

And that's not all!

Working with a professional agent, Barbara and Lloyd recently landed a minor, non-speaking part in a Kellogg cereal commercial, while Arnold's smiling face graced a

Theater

Wisconsin Tourism Bureau promotion.

The Kalickis have modeled for Sears' Allstate ads and are in various textbooks as well as an Encyclopedia Britannica video created for schools on how to use the library.

As to their aspirations, Barbara says she would like to be both an actress/dancer and a veterinarian when she gets older. Lloyd, a natural ham, jests how he sees himself "as the first standup comic in space." And little Arnold says he has no idea yet on a career goal.

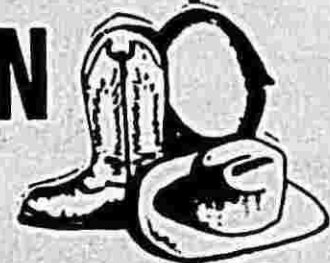

"It's certainly fun watching them grow up and change their minds and dream of tomorrow," Mrs. Kalicki noted.

One thing, however, is certain: this talented little band has a real jumpstart on its future.

STANTON

208-09 STANTON
By Landmark Designs
04-22-90

Designed to take advantage of a side-sloping lot, The Stanton is large but economical to build. In this plan, the upper level is the main floor.

Kids can make all the noise and mess they want in the bedrooms and large family room downstairs, allowing adults the luxury of a quieter, neater environment upstairs. An open stairwell, with railing, connects the two floors.

The utility room is also below, and negotiations will be in order to decide who gets the bedroom with the walk-in closet. Sliding glass doors open on a small patio tucked under the main floor deck, cool and shady in summer.

In the living room, another set of sliding glass windows provide access to that deck, which is also accessible from stairs behind the house. The living room is huge with room for several conversation areas. Large families could convert the family room downstairs into more bedrooms, and, use the living room as a family room.

The U-shaped kitchen has its own sky-lit nook with ample space for a table next to the window. A door connects the kitchen and double garage - handy for carrying in groceries and entering the house after dark.

Another skylight brings natural light into the bathroom located just inside the front entryway, convenient for a quick stop in the midst of busy play.

The master suite is at the front of the house. It has a walk-in closet, double vanity and enclosed bathtub. An entryway closet tucked in the hallway will help keep coats and boots under control.

For a study plan of the STANTON (208-09), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You'll meet with romance and affection now. Be sure to accept invitations. Be straightforward in financial dealings and you'll gain. You're in an adventurous mood. Still, if you'll channel more energy into career advancement, you'll meet with success.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Someone at a distance wants to hear from you. Though you're busy completing unfinished tasks, take some time out for yourself. Even though you have a busy social schedule now, be sure to set aside moments to spend alone with a loved one. A friend is moody.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Career changes require quick thinking to keep up with them, but you can come out on top. Meanwhile, your social life is active. You and a close friend will agree about joint aims, though partners may be reluctant to travel. Career initiative brings benefits.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Romance, travel and hobbies afford satisfaction now, but you need to watch expenditures. Minor difficulties are related to work. Duties connected with children can interfere with romantic rapport. Make plans for future times, when you can be alone together.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Unexpected situations at work can cause a change in plans. A trip for two will enhance romance. Be tactful with your co-workers. Romance and creative enterprises are accented, but you must rise above conflicting feelings. Enjoy the chance to increase income.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) The unexpected causes you to reappraise a domestic situation. Your sex appeal is high and you'll attract much admiration. New ideas are exciting, but present them tactfully. Shut out the world and enjoy privacy with a loved one. Communicate thoughts.

LIBRA (September 23 to October

22) Common sense is your ally now, especially when shopping. Seek durable goods. You could be upset by the behavior of one in your family. Seriousness of purpose leads to mental achievement. You may have difficulty in expressing anger or in properly exercising initiative.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Doing errands for a shut-in — or helping others out in some way — brings personal satisfaction, but a friend may get on your nerves. Attend to obligations in connection with friends. A higher-up could anger you, but refrain from making any hasty changes.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Privacy allows you to make career headway through hard work, but don't show your results to those who might criticize them unjustly. Be sure to follow through on commitments. Though you may fly off the handle with a friend, you'll be able to patch things up later.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be conscientious about business routines. Social contacts prove helpful to your career, but you'll need to use tact with a dear one. Curb impatience. Think of long-term goals regarding education and future plans, then work toward their realization.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your powers of concentration improve and, through steady effort, you will make progress on the job. Avoid romantic disputes. You'll find security in another's loyalty. Love feelings deepen, but ward off an argument about domestic matters toward nightfall.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're very involved in your work now and will make significant progress. Don't be short-tempered with one who interrupts you. Creative work will succeed. Apply yourself now. Avoid arguments with children about expenses, also impulsiveness when shopping.

Portrait of dedication

Irene M. Green stands beside her portrait which was a family gift honoring her retirement from the U. of I. Cooperative Extension Service, where she has been an Extension Advisor in Home Economics for 18 years. She has served, altogether, 23 years at the Cooperative Extension Service, both in Grayslake and Virginia. The portrait will hang in the Irene Green library at the Grayslake Extension Service office, where a contribution in Green's name has also been made. Green, who has been called a Barbara Bush look-alike, will be sorely missed by her co-workers. She and her husband, Fred, are moving to North Carolina.—Photo by Pat Christensen

Four receive awards

The recipients of the 1990 Mary Frances Clarke, B.V.M. Minority Scholarships have been announced by the Rev. William J. Harry, O. Carm., president of Carmel High School.

Those receiving the $1,000 awards are: Laura Bautista, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Honofre Bautista of Gurnee; Guadalupe Montejo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Montejo of Waukegan; Marc Sungo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Sunga of Waukegan; and Vincent Wasseluk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wasseluk of Hawthorn Woods.

Awards were based upon test scores, essays written by the student and recommendations of the students' teachers/principal. A three-person committee made the recommendation of four students to the president of the school.

The Mary Frances Clarke, B.V.M. Scholarship is named after the foundress of the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary and bears her name because of her commitment to education, especially of members of minority groups. A grant of $50,000 was made by the Sisters of Charity of Dubuque, Iowa, to endow this scholarship. Interest from this gift will be used to award the scholarships.

Quilters To Meet

The Northern Lake County Quilters Assn. is having a monthly meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 9 in the Wilton Room of the Lake Villa Dist. Library, 1001 E. Grand Ave. For more information call Lauri Joseph at (708)356-6172.

Races have something for all

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

He is an example of what the Lake County Races is all about.

He did not come in first place, but that did not matter much for Adam Allsott.

There he was Sunday, enjoying himself as much as the hearkened runners such as marathoner Anne Kuiken and race-walker Debbie Lawrence and the first marathon finisher, Raymond Ross.

Allsott, age 12, competed this windy day in a wheelchair, completing the 10 K race near McDonald's in Waukegan.

"It is just the right kind of course," Gary Steiner, whose job it is to push Alstot in a three-wheeled wheel chair, said.

"It has the right amount of hills and flatness and you don't have to worry about potholes and glass," he said.

Steiner, from Germantown, Tenn., explained that he usually drives the course the night before to look for just such obstacles. He also praised the support Alstot received during the race from Zion in Waukegan.

Alstot, who had an American flag sitting proudly from his wheelchair, completed his race in 3:47. A resident of Lockport, Alstot has competed in the triathlon as well. His wheelchair is equipped with padded handlebars to make it easier for Steiner, who wears gloves.

In the triathlon, he rides in a life raft.

"He is very much of a professional spectator," Adam's mother, Kathy, said.

The event was a family affair for the Alstots, as 15 family members cheered their relative on.

Kathy Kybcki of Bensonville won the 10K for the women in 36:45. A Michigan native, she has been running for 12 years.

"It was a pretty good course," she said.

'Hungry' Corsairs host St. Joe

Carmel High School's baseball team continued its strong start in the East Suburban Catholic Conference last week, as the Corsairs won four of the first five games.

Carmel swept Marist Saturday in Chicago, but then lost to Notre Dame on Monday.

The Corsairs host ESCC rival St. Joseph May 5 in a 1 p.m. doubleheader in Mendeleville.

Maybe the kids will be a bit hungrier," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

The Corsairs fell to Notre Dame 2-1 Monday to drop their record to 15-3 overall, 4-1 in league play. Carmel had a chance to tie the game in the seventh inning as it loaded the bases but could not get the key hit. Notre Dame had scored its two runs in the fifth inning.

Against Marist, Jim Cooney was the winning pitcher in game one. Carmel took a dramatic route to win this game, scoring all four runs in the seventh inning.

In game two, Carmel didn't wait to score, tallying all three runs in the second inning. Matt Simmons contributed a home run as the key blow in that frame. Simmons also had a double.

Eric Maloney was the winning pitcher. Following the Saturday doubleheader, Carmel battles St. Viator next week with game May 7.

And they're off

CLC's Hanson garners 500th victory

There is just no way of getting around it.

Saturday was a very big day in the history of College of Lake County's baseball program.

The Lancers needed one win to claim the Skyway Conference title and the team went one better, sweeping arch-rival Oakton 3-0 and 8-5.

But that's where the accomplishments begin. CLC swept Lewis Junior Varsity 11-0 and 14-1 Monday and when the final out was recorded in the second game, Gene Hanson had notched his 500th career victory.

"I don't think the kids were aware of it," Hanson said.

Hanson is 500-189 in his 17 years at CLC.

Antioch graduate Dan Grote increased his record to 5-0 in the first game on a one-hitter. Jim Larriuz also threw a one-hitter in the second game.

The first game win gave the team revenge for last season, which saw it fall to Oakton for both the conference title and in the post-season tournament.

The Lancers, 36-10 overall, host sectional play beginning Saturday. CLC battles Elgin at noon. The double elimination tournament continues Sunday with the title game set for Monday.

In the Skyway Conference clincher against Oakton, Mark Ledinsky was the winning pitcher as he walked eight and struckout four but only surrendered four singles.

CLC scored in its first as, with one out, Ledinsky singled and Brad Dodge tripled. CLC upped its lead to 2-0 in the fourth as Greg Green, who was injured the day before in a split against DuPage, tripled and scored on a Bill Demo single.

In the sixth, Jim Larriuz and Sam Austiun singled and Larriuz tallied on a hit by Jared Fogel.

Lancers set for tourney

They say it is difficult for champions to repeat. Just ask Sue Garcia.

The College of Lake County women's softball coach saw her team win the Skyway Conference title her first year, miss the second, but then bounce back last year to win it in the third year.

Sunday the Lancers had a chance to gain a tie for the title with McHenry, but fell short as the Scots swept CLC 6-0 and 3-2.

"The first game was the one we had to win. We played tough but we could not string our hits together," Garcia said.

With the losses, CLC is now turning its attention to the post-season sectional tournament this weekend.

CLC came into the doubleheader contest this breezy Sunday in Grayslake with an 8-2 record in Skyway Conference play while McHenry was 10-0. A sweep would have given the Lancers a tie for the title.

McHenry used the weapon of the bunt successfully several times in the first game. "That's the thing we practice. We want to make the other team throw the ball," McHenry Coach Ozzie Rometo said.

The Scots, 24-2 overall, scored a run in the second inning of the first game as Jenni Bye singled and Patti Wightman doubled.

CLC starting pitcher Kathleen Quilty of Libertyville kept the Scots at bay through the next four innings, including pitching her way out of a jam in the sixth inning. MCC had two runners on with one out before Quilty gained a strikeout and a fly out to end the threat.

CLC's best scoring threat came in the fifth inning. Sandy Johansen, however, was thrown out at the plate.

McHenry then erupted for five seventh-inning runs. Wightman singled and pitcher Sheryl Panek bunted. Tracy Leyden had an RBI single, Karey Jones reached on an RBI fielder's choice and Connie Pahl doubled for a 5-0 lead.

The Lancers gained a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning on a walk to Karen Gust, a Quilty single and an RBI single from Jessica Elsner.

Former Bear Earl knows future 'in the bag'

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Imagine it is another 90 degree day, but you have a golf appointment you have to keep.

Somehow, walking 18 holes on a golf course does not seem to be the idea of fun. Or perhaps the summer weather suddenly turns 20 degrees warmer than predicted. And you're on the ninth hole, maybe a par five.

Robin Earl is marketing a product that will enhance your outlook on the situation if not improve those shots that lie in the rough. Earl, though his Lombard firm, is marketing a "Joey Bag". The one Earl was showing to fellow diners at the Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund and Sports Banquet was red with white trim. In it a six pack of your favorite soft drink will stay ice cold even in the hottest of days.

"It is designed for the golf course," Earl said. A jell freeze bag will keep six cans ice cold.

Earl explained that it was just such a hot summer's day last golf season that the idea struck. Now he hopes to have the "Joey Bag" in major golf stores throughout the United States.

The bag, which comes in some 28 possible color combinations, is 19 inches long, five inches wide and 3.5 inches deep.

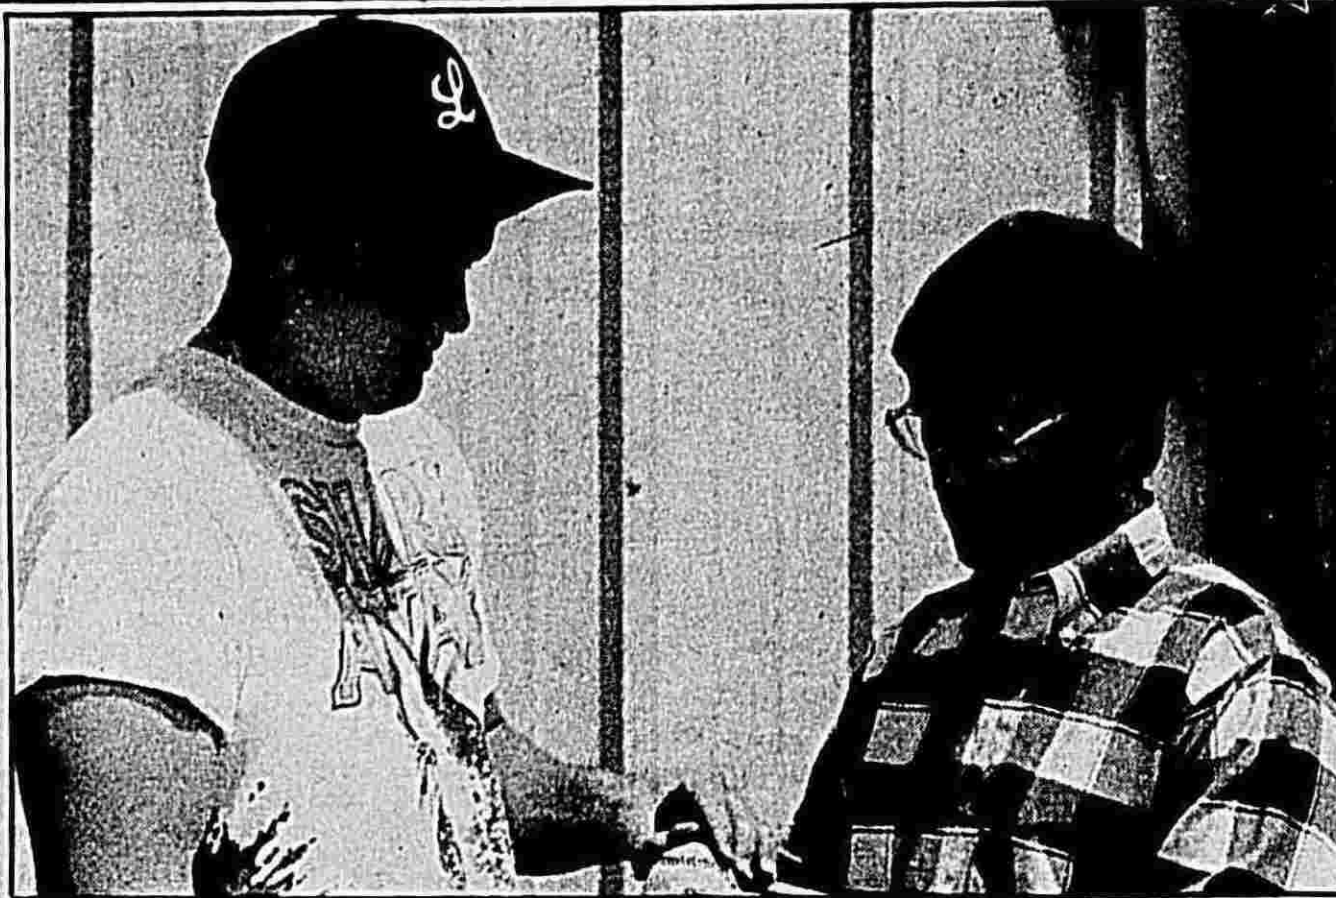

"It's a great fundraiser item," Earl said.

Earl is now entrenched in the marketing of the bag and sells it with the same enthusiasm which with he caught passes and threw blocks for the Chicago Bears in the late 1970's and early 1980's. Earl hopes to market the bag in Australia soon.

The 1983 season, Coach Mike Ditka's first, was Earl's last in Chicago.

"I played for five different offensive coordinators and three head coaches. The three head coaches were as different as they could be. Jack Pardee was a quiet, defensive coach; Neale Armstrong was a player's coach and then all hell broke loose when Ditka came in. He cleaned house," Earl said.

Earl also had two years experience with the Birmingham Club of the United States Football League. "We won 31 games and two Eastern Conference titles, he remembered.

Mustangs turn back bid

Meeting the challenge. The Mundelein Mustangs softball squad had done just that 55 straight times before facing Antioch Tuesday in a North Suburban Conference contest.

The game was billed as one for first place as Antioch came into the contest with a 7-1 league record.

Some 90 minutes later, Antioch's plans to join the elite of the NSC were put on hold for at least 48 hours as Mundelein cruised to a 13-1 win.

"I'm proud that the team hit the ball well. Thus far we have been able to come up and meet any challenge. But the most important thing is the win,"

Mundelein Coach Jim deRivera said.

Mundelein was relentless in its offense and the Antioch defense, which had paced the team the first 13 games, had a chance to show itself only briefly when Ashley Struggles was thrown out trying to steal second base.

"I thought we played well but I wish we could have gotten some of those hits," Antioch Coach Judy Smithhisler said.

Freshman Terilyn Starkey got things going in a big way for the home team. Already ahead 1-0, she belted a Ginger Skarvce pitch to deep left field, touching all the bases, taking the air from Antioch's upset hopes.

Demi Micheleau singled, Cindy Shark doubled, Donna Deal doubled and Lynette Kowalke singled before Antioch got another out. By then the home team had a 6-0 lead.

Name committee for Hospice golf

The committee has been formed for the 1990 STAR Hospice Golf Benefit, according to Sonia Arvanitis, director of fund development for Saint Therese Medical Center. Bill West of West Insurance Agency will chair the 1990 outing.

Other committee members are: E.R. Abberholden, M.D., of the Medical Staff; Father James Marold of pastoral care; Marguerite Rupel of the Saint Therese Medical Center Auxiliary; Barbara Catrette of the Cancer Federation; Sally Coffelt, Lake County Circuit Court Clerk; Gene Morani of Marsh Funeral Home; Patrick Morris, Waukegan Township Assessor; Marcia Byrne of Marion Laboratories; Maxine Abney of Libertyville; Jerry Haines of Larsen Marine; Richard Krug of Prime Time Cable; Thomas Schwartz, First Midwest Bank president; Dave Savel of North Chicago Lumber; and Gene Sackman of Blunt, Ellis & Lowe, Inc.

With a goal of $62,000, the benefit is scheduled for July 11, 1990 at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth. Last year's event raised $50,000. It is open to the public.

Grapplers' club offers experience

For the past five years, Lake County high school wrestlers interested in sharpening their skills and competing at the state wide level have participated in the Lake County Wrestling Club.

Originally started by Antioch Coach Ted DeRousse and Libertyville High Coach Dale Eggert, the club now offers sites for youngsters to wrestle throughout Lake County. Grayslake, Libertyville, and Highland Park High Schools are now staffed and available to any wrestler wishing to work out. Grayslake coaches Steve Kushner and Nate Carter along with Highland Park Coach Bill Clark, and Lake Zurich Coach Mick Torres are also active Lake County coaches.

In order to become a member of the club and wrestle in USA sponsored tournaments, a wrestler must purchase a USA wrestling membership card. The card also provides medical insurance during workouts and at tournaments governed by USA Wrestling as well as insuring the local practice sites and team leaders who are involved in instruction and supervision. The total membership cost to each Lake County Club wrestler is $25.

During the spring and summer months a schedule of developmental tournaments is available for both experienced and inexperienced wrestlers. As the wrestlers gain skill and knowledge in Greco-Roman and Freestyle, they find tournaments available each weekend which qualify them for state and national competition.

The Lake County Club is staffed at each site with volunteer coaches and clinicians. Throughout the length of the program World Class wrestlers are brought in to demonstrate the latest and best techniques.

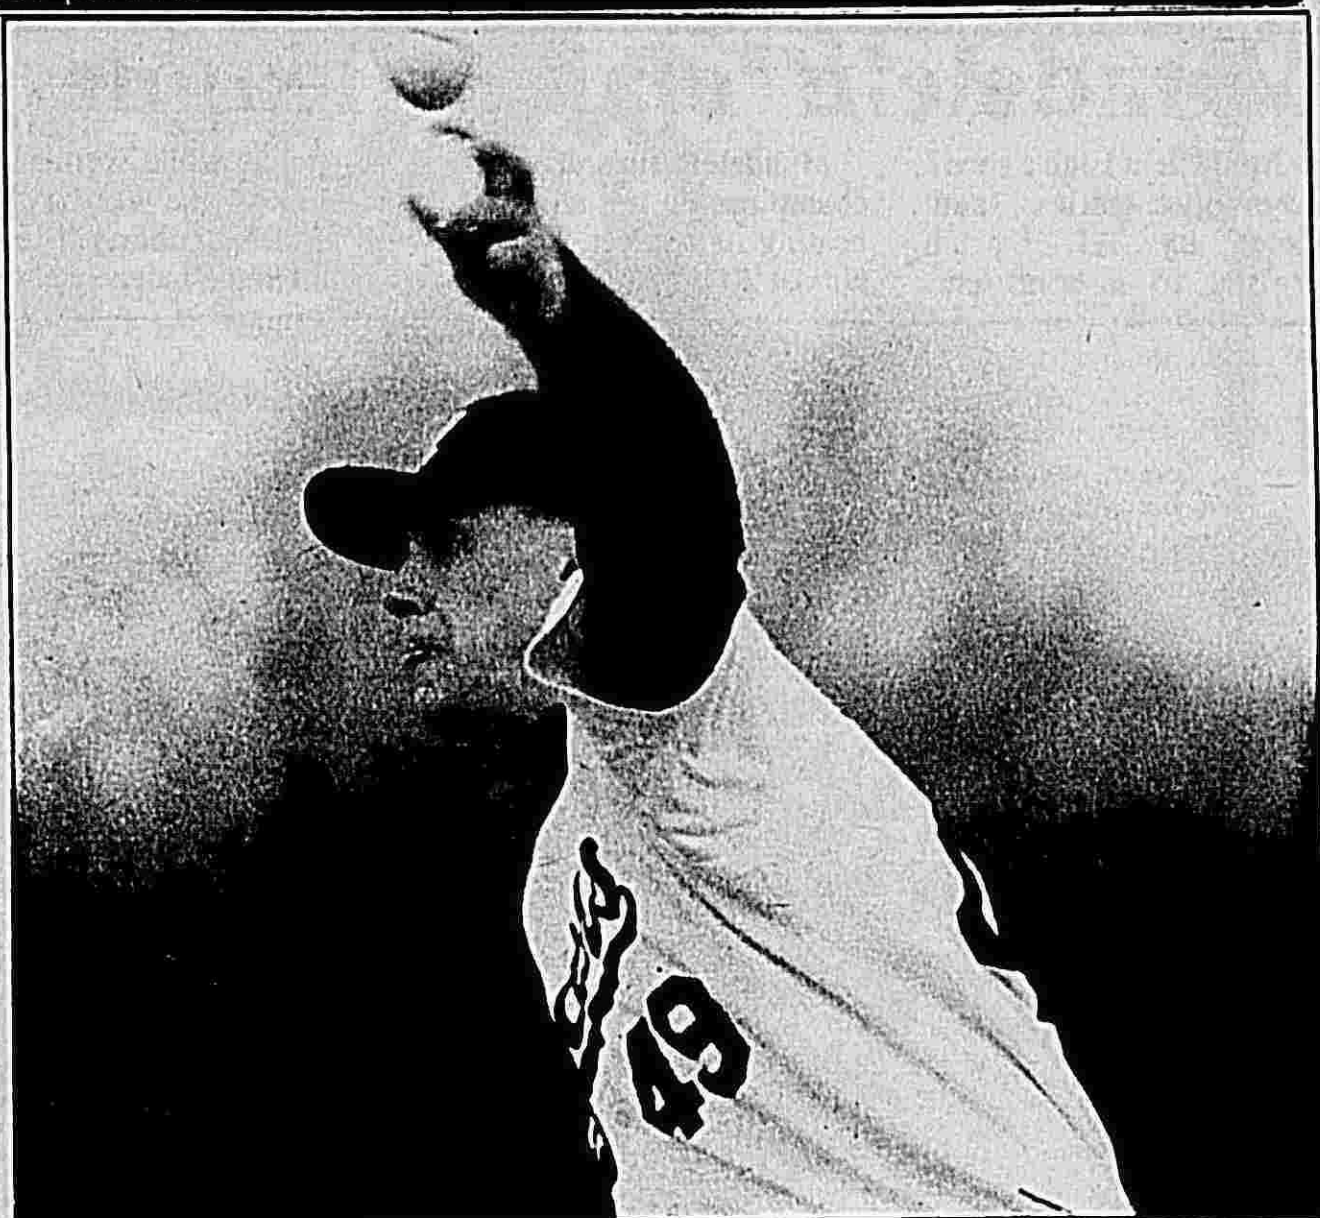

League needs managers

The Grant Twp. Area Little League took a big step toward breathing new life into a stagnant program by forming a traveling league for boys ages 13 and 14.

The league consists of three teams from the boundaries of the Grant Twp. Area Little League, two from Antioch and two from Richmond.

The league, however, is looking for managers to lead the teams. The season is scheduled to start May 9.

If interested in managing one of the teams, call Jim Trentadeu at (708) 587-4014 or Larry Lutz at (708) 587-583.

Mundelein claims league title, looks to regional

Mundelein High School's boys gymnastics team, paced by T.J. Dortch, cruised to a conference Mundelein finished with championship last week by beating its nearest rival by almost 20 points.

153.1 points while second-place Lake Park was next with 131.5. Libertyville was third in the Independent League meet held at MHS.

Dortch won several events for the Mustangs, claiming the all-around, pommel horse and high and parallel bars. He had a 9.6 in the high bars and 9.3 on the pommel, 9.2 on the parallel bars.

Jason Kovack earned second place finishes in the pommel horse with a 9.0. This represents a one point increase from last year.

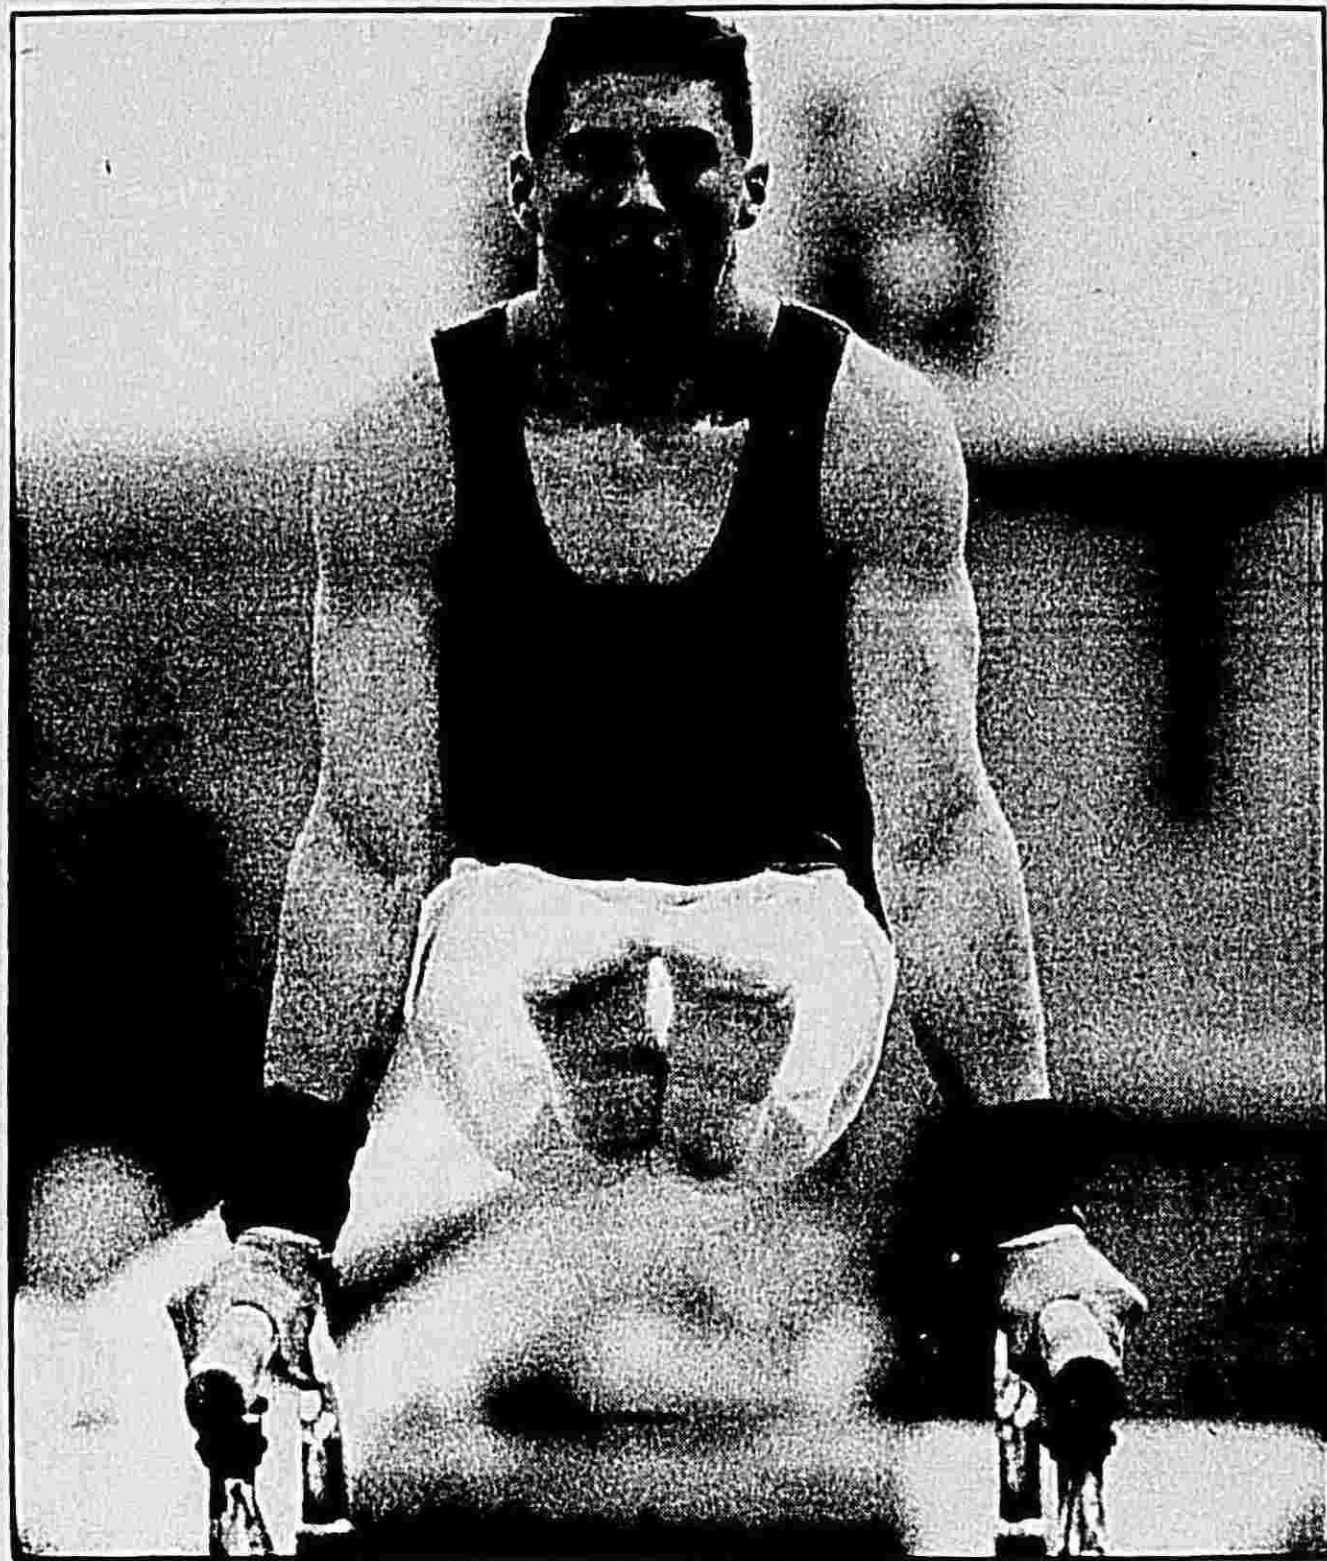

"He just worked on his consistency and has gotten a lot stronger," Mundelein Coach Doug Foerch said.

MHS won the league title with a 4-0 record.

James Gonzalez had a strong second in the high bar with a 9.0.

Foerch said he expected Jeff Turnbull to return to the MHS lineup in the all-around during the regional dual against Buffalo Grove Wednesday. A win there advances the defending state champs to the sectional level.

Matter of measurement for Spaulding students

Students in Trish Lauraitis' and Charlene Bestler's resource rooms at Spaulding School, have been busy learning about measurement.

The students brought in items from home for a classroom display. In addition to the usual measuring cups, bowls, and spoons, many have measurement utensils like wrenches, retractable tapes, thermometer, egg cartons, protractor and compass, pint, quart, and gallon jugs were sent in by the children's parents.

During March, many activities centered around measurement. The students colored and cut out leprechauns and shamrocks for a classroom bulletin board. The children then measured their leprechaun's height, hat, smile, suit, shoes, vest, breeches, or bowtie in centimeters to practice in metric linear measurement.

The function of the resource room at Spaulding School is to supplement each child's academic instructional program to meet his or her individual needs. The classroom utilizes multi-sensory approach involving visual, auditory, and tactile clues. Many concrete examples and practical experiences, such as those used while teaching measurement, are provided to enhance the child's ability to form concepts, remember information and apply skills to his or her everyday life.

Also at Spaulding, for National Library Week, a 'Rockin' and Reading' program was featured. Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath was among the celebrities to read to the youngsters.

Celebrating Arbor Day

First grade students at Spaulding School in Gurnee celebrate Arbor Day 1990 by planting a tree. Some 180 first graders participated in a program in which they collected cans which were later exchanged for money to purchase trees. Three trees were planted at Spaulding, including this Radiant Crab Apple. As classmates look on students Joanna Johnson and Patrick Garcia, (left), and Bethany Crossley plant tree.

Garden of houseplants relay 'cool' feeling

If you'd like to create a "cooling" decorative effect indoors during the summer months, stock up on lush houseplants. Outdoor foliage has the invaluable role of providing shade, and indoors, a garden of houseplants will make rooms look less warm than they are.

For example, full cascading ferns evoke the feeling of a cool forest, and a small ivy-covered trellis for dressing windows conjures up the sense of an evening on the back porch.

According to several studies, indoor greenery also helps people relax. And that's the marketing secret behind those peaceful interior landscapes you find in shopping malls. Shoppers find the plant-filled environments calming and they slow down, spending more time in the stores and more money on store merchandise. In offices, workers claim that plants improve the appearance of the workplace and reduce tension. Use the plants as room accents, don't place them where they will fade into a dark corner. A few large plants can be the main decorative elements in a room.

Pay attention to light requirements. Plants that need a certain amount of light must be in an area that will provide such conditions. If your rooms don't receive sufficient natural light, install artificial lighting.

New containers for your plants can also change the look of a room.

THE RECYCLER™

While the rest of the world is still mulching, Toro is recycling.

It's not just new terminology. It's new engineering. Patented deflectors inside the deck direct clippings to the center of the mower, where they are recut by a revolutionary new blade that produces high air movement and forces the small grass particles into the grass. Rear bag attachment is standard equipment, so you have the option to bag when extra tall or wet grass warrants it.

8 ways to save water when establishing lawns

Save water and money by following these 10 simple methods:

1. Reduce steep slopes in the design. Level surfaces allow water to penetrate while steeper slopes encourages wasteful water run-off.
2. Test solid and amend. Create the best possible growing medium with organic materials, pH balance and nutrients.

3. Install an irrigation system. Water efficiency is greatly improved with a designed system over hoses and especially hand-held sprinklers.
4. Select drought tolerant varieties. Scientific grass breeding has developed many varieties of improved turfgrasses.

5. Sod rather than seed. Turfgrass sod requires 15 to 60 percent less water to establish a lawn than does seeding, depending on the area and conditions.
6. Use a soil probe. Water only when a probe or screw driver is difficult to push into the ground or shows the soil is dry.
7. Water in the early morning or evening. Less wind drift and lower evaporation rates increase water efficiency use rates.

8. Match fertilizer to plant requirements. Extension agents or professional agronomists can recommend timing and amounts of fertilizer needed by each grass variety. This reduces waste and mowing needs as well as overly succulent, water-wasting growth.

Make nurseries first stop for container shopping

If you plan to go container shopping, make sure that your first stop in your local nursery retail/garden center. Besides having the most comprehensive selection, the center will have experts on hand to answer questions about color, height, and design as well as repotting methods.

If you're wondering what size the new pot should be, a good rule of thumb is one size larger than your current pot.

Pots are made of clay, ceramic, or plastic. To keep your plant as healthy as possible, be aware of the particular benefits and drawbacks of each kind.

Though breakable, pots made of clay provide excellent aeration for the roots. Because the containers' porous walls take in and release moisture, plants in clay pots need more watering than those in plastic ones.

The increasingly popular plastic containers are cheaper and lighter than clay or ceramic pots. With much less porous walls, plastic pots cut down the watering needs. Another reason for the popularity is that the pots are available in a wide range of colors, shapes, and sizes

Planting trees can save you $

You can cut back your heating and air-conditioning bills and at the same time do something for the environment by planting trees.

The best way to stop dirtying up the air is to plant a tree. It is the oldest, cheapest, and most efficient air purifier on earth.

Trees reduce wind and water erosion, produce shade and cooling effects in summer, windbreak and warming effect in winter, noise abatement, and food production.

By planting trees we can show a new spirit of activism and volunteerism to serve each other and help our planet. It can be done as a family project and cultivate good character in our children by cultivating a cleaner environment.

This emphasis on clear air addresses the concerns of many Americans who are anxious about the effect of pollution on our air quality. Luckily, the "oldest and cheapest air purifier" uses some of that excess carbon dioxide (CO2) to manufacture its nourishment, in the process transforming that gas into the oxygen that all living things require.

Energy use is the single greatest contributor to CO2 buildup. As the world's people continue to use more and more energy, countries must burn increasing amounts of fuel to meet the need. In 1987, global consumption of fuel resulted in the release of 5.6 billion tons of CO2 into the air. This fact alone gives us special reasons to participate in the solutions such as planting trees.

Trees are especially valuable in cities. Urban "heat islands" caused by expanses of concrete and pavement such as parking lots and plazas, can be as much as nine degrees hotter than surrounding areas. The shade that trees provide breaks up the heat islands and cuts energy needs as well as costs. In fact, the shading and cooling effect of just one tree indirectly reduces CO2 emissions close to 15 times the amount that a tree can process.

The cost of planting a tree to reduce CO2 by one pound would range between .3 and 1.3 cents. To get the same job done with improved appliances would cost 2.5 cents, with more efficient cars 10 cents. Compare tree-planting's low costs with its benefits: In the proper locations, three trees around a house can cut air-conditioning needs by 10 to 50 percent.

Bright bird kites

Kite flying is an aerodynamic mystery that you should discuss with your father or mother. While you're at it, ask how to bridle kites and figure out the tails.

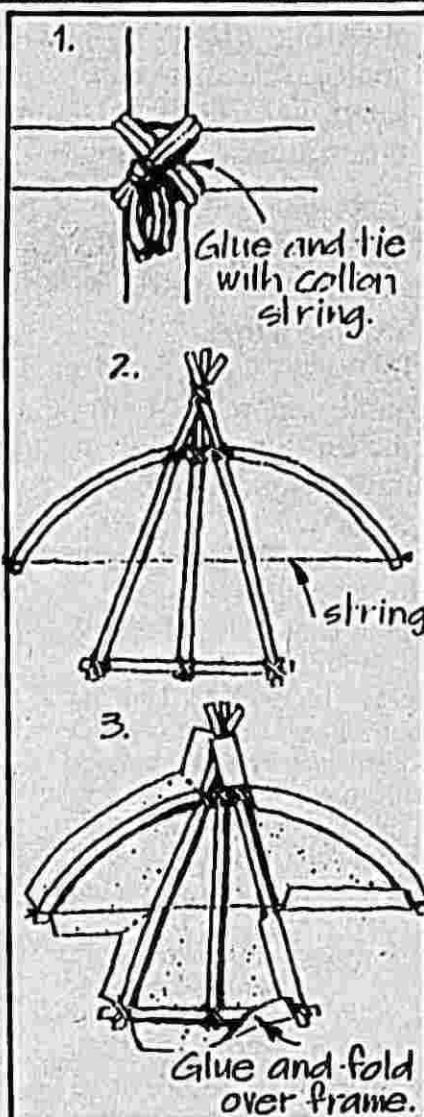

Making a kite is something to do on your own while you're waiting for a windy day. Hang it on the wall for good luck.

There are 50 to a million different ways to design kites. This one is made of bamboo strips joined by white glue and tied string (see sketch 1). Get the bamboo from window shades or from a garden center.

To make the triangular bird kite (sketch 2), join three spine pieces, tepee fashion. Join the straight bottom piece over the spine. The wings are made like an Indian's bow, the tight string making the wood curve. Tie and glue them on last of all.

Finish the kites by gluing lightweight tissue or rice paper over the frames (see sketch 3). Decorate them with poster paints. Bits of cloth or crepe paper are good tail material.

Rain threatened but didn't keep the hundreds of curious antique buffs from enjoying the second annual Hunt Club Farms Antique Show on April 28 and 29. All proceeds to benefit Victory Hospital Foundation. Fifty selected area antique dealers creatively displayed some of their finest pieces. Depression glass, silver, miniature cars and novelties, oak and pine furniture, Shaker collectibles and informative books were some of the items displayed for sale. Everything was choice—the lingo of a true collector.—Photo by Randee Rian

Sew your own style

Have you ever looked in the mirror and realized your clothes lacked a personal style, a style that was really you? There simply was no pizzazz, no individuality. Have you seen yourself coming and going as you walked down the street and vowed never to shop at that store again?

Here's an easy prescription. Created your own wardrobe through sewing.

Before you say, "Who me, sew?" Think about it for a moment. The art of sewing has changed dramatically over the past few years. To begin with; home sewing is so much simpler today, even a novice can create a chic, smart look.

Indeed, sewing instructions now are user friendly, simple to understand, easy to follow and exciting to complete.
